THREE DEAD IN CRASH AT SALAMANCA

Three Salamanca, N. Y. men were fatally injured last night when their car rammed a ten-ton dump truck parked on East State street in Salamanca.

The trio, all critically injured, could not be admitted to Salamanca hospital because it was overcrowded. They were raced 18 miles by a pair of ambulances to St. Francis Hospital in Olean where they died.

Pronounced dead on arrival in Olean was Paul Grey, 29, driver of the car. He had a fractured neck. Richard Bolles, 31, died a short time after being admitted with a skull fracture and internal injuries. Other passenger, Earl Roach, 42, died about two hours after the mishap of severe internal injuries.

Funeral services are incomplete.

Salamanca hospital supervisor said afterwards that 47 patients were already in the hospital which had a 39-bed capacity. Without a resident physician, she stated she felt more prompt treatment could be obtained in Olean.

The car was demolished in the wreck which occurred at 11:30 p. m. The ambulances stopped briefly at Salamanca hospital and after being told of no accommodations raced to Olean.

Snark Missile on Another Flight Across Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Snark guided missile streaked aloft today on the start of another 6,000-mile flight across the Atlantic.

The 69-foot Snark, which has been fired from the Cape more than 50 times, at present is the only U. S. missile capable of traveling intercontinental range.

Twin booster rockets flashed a bright stream of orange flame as the Snark skimmed across the Cape and out over the sea. After a few seconds, the boosters broke away and a turbojet engine cut in.

The missile, developed by Northrop, has a speed of only 600 m.p.h., but it is capable of sensational accuracy. If launched off course, the Snark's airborne guidance system can correct the trajectory automatically.

Springdale Man First U. S. Victim on Island

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Specialist 3-c George Johnston of Springdale, Pa., is the first American casualty during the current hostilities on small island of Quemoy.

Johnston suffered an arm wound during an artillery bombardment by the Chinese Communists. He and a group of Nationalist Chinese wounded were brought here by plane.

"I guess I was in the wrong place at the wrong time," Johnston commented.

He was attached to a small U. S. military assistance advisory group on Quemoy. He had been scheduled to be relieved of duty Oct. 15.

Accommodations List for Hunters Makes Appearance

The 1958-1959 edition of the folder "Accommodations for Hunters, Fishermen and Tourists in Warren County" made its appearance today under the sponsorship of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce.

Paul Yagge, committee chairman, said that 20,000 of the brochures have been printed for distribution throughout eastern United States by the Chamber and by the state Department of Commerce travel bureau.

The folder contains over 50 places where tourists and hunters may stay in the Warren area, rates charged and information about meals, guide service etc.

Faubus Offers Residents of Little Rock What He Calls Legal Plan on Segregation

Spectacular Blowup Ends Atlas Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The first attempt to launch an Atlas missile the full 6,000-mile intercontinental range ended in a spectacular blowup high in the Florida sky.

The mighty ICBM exploded in a ball of orange flame in the stratosphere Thursday 80 seconds after liftoff.

It was the 13th Atlas fired to date, and was launched from Pad No. 13 at the Cape.

The blowup cut short immediate U. S. hopes of closing the gap with the Soviet Union in the space weapons race. Most U. S. missile experts believe the Soviets already have an operational ICBM.

First Test on Nevada Flats Set Off Today

By JACK LEFLER

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — A tiny, but powerful, atomic weapon exploded over the desert today as the seventh and possibly final nuclear test series opened at this southern Nevada proving ground.

A brilliant flash cut through the morning sunlight as the device went off beneath a balloon at 500 feet elevation.

A light brown cloud, without the usual atomic mushroom shape, shot up over the floor of Yucca Flat at 7 a. m.

The sound and the shock wave were hardly noticeable at News Nob 10 1/2 miles away.

Within minutes after the blast only a tin cloud remained. The weapon's power was rated at a fraction of a kiloton. This means that the explosive force was equal to several hundred tons of TNT.

The shot today was named "Eddy" for Eddy County, N.M. All of the weapons developed at the Los Alamos, N.M., laboratory which are used in this series will be named for New Mexico's counties.

A 10-shot series has been planned, but must end before Oct. 31, effective date of President Eisenhower's proposal for a one-year suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

Researchers on 8th Day in Space Chamber

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two researchers at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine entered their eighth day in a sealed, simulated space chamber today. They report they are "feeling great" but look forward to a shower when they emerge Monday.

Both Dr. Bruno Balke and M. Sgt. Samuel G. Karst are eating and sleeping well and have stopped losing weight, said Dr. Robert C. Clark, who heads the experiment to learn more about man's reaction to living in space.

Monitoring Board Meeting Today To Decide Hoffa Fate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Monitors appointed by a federal judge meet today to decide whether to file suit to topple James R. Hoffa as president of the Teamsters Union on grounds of corrupt practices.

But the three-man board of monitors first must decide whether to suspend operations temporarily pending outcome of (A) Hoffa's threatened suit to oust one of the monitors, and (B) a new definition of their powers to police his scandal-battered union.

The Senate Rackets Committee Thursday ended seven weeks of hearings on misconduct charges against Hoffa and some of his lieutenants.

Command on Formosa Is Reorganized

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas Thursday night offered the people of Little Rock what he termed a legal plan for private, segregated schools and asked them to vote for segregated classes.

In Virginia, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. closed white schools as rapidly as the courts ordered them to admit Negroes.

An attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said he will go in to court if necessary to get a group of Negro children into a white elementary school at Miami, Fla.

Faubus said approval of segregated classes in the Sept. 27 special referendum will make the school facilities surplus property. The School Board can then lease them to private agencies and he urged them to do so. One such agency has already been chartered.

The plan depends heavily on the special election which some lawyers say has no legal significance because of the Supreme Court order to integrate immediately.

The Little Rock School Board, meanwhile, arranged for informal televised classes to begin Monday. School officials have not decided what credit may be given for such work.

Almond closed two schools at Charlottesville, Va., under a state law which automatically halts classes wherever integration is ordered. The white high school at Front Royal was closed last week.

The Warren County (Front Royal) Parent-Teachers Assn. vetoed a move to reopen the school without state funds. The PTA named a committee to make plans for interim pupil instruction. Six schools in Norfolk apparently will be the next to close but action by the City School Board may delay it. A federal judge overruled a state court injunction against the board's proceeding with integration plans. The board said it will seek a delay of the integration order and, if that fails, appeal to the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals. State action will await that decision.

G. E. Graves, an NAACP attorney at Miami, said he will appeal to the County School Board and the Florida State School Board if necessary to win admittance of some Negroes to a white school at Miami. Failing there, he said he will take the case to the Circuit Court at Tallahassee. The county board has rejected applications from 14 Negro children to attend the school.

The Democratic National Committee blamed President Eisenhower for the crisis in school integration. In a Democratic Fact Book the party said if the President had used the moral authority of his office to promote orderly integration the "school-opening crises of these last years could have been avoided."

Monitoring Board Meeting Today To Decide Hoffa Fate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Monitors appointed by a federal judge meet today to decide whether to file suit to topple James R. Hoffa as president of the Teamsters Union on grounds of corrupt practices.

But the three-man board of monitors first must decide whether to suspend operations temporarily pending outcome of (A) Hoffa's threatened suit to oust one of the monitors, and (B) a new definition of their powers to police his scandal-battered union.

The Senate Rackets Committee Thursday ended seven weeks of hearings on misconduct charges against Hoffa and some of his lieutenants.

Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) said, "There is just no end to the scandals. The Teamster treasurers seem to have attracted a host of parasites."

Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) said, "The American people should rise up and demand that this thing be corrected."

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) then adjourned the inquiry until after the Nov. 4 elections.

With the temporary windup of the hearings, attention swung to a closed-door session of the board of monitors to consider more than 250 charges against Hoffa by a group of New York rank-and-file Teamsters demanding his ouster.

Command on Formosa Is Reorganized

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The United States has announced reorganization of the American advisory command on Formosa, making it — in effect — a regular combat command.

The announcement by the commander of the U. S. Formosa Defense Command, Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot, said the step was taken to attain an adequate defense posture in the face of recent stepped-up Chinese Communist actions.

In the Quemoy area, Communist and Nationalist guns thundered in fresh battle today. The Nationalists said the Reds fired 6,613 shells between noon and 6 p. m. The bombardment was particularly heavy while three LSTs — Landing Ship, Tank — were unloading supplies at Quemoy. The Defense Ministry here said the ships accomplished their mission without damage and returned safely to base, presumably the Pescadores Islands.

Smoot's command announced that the United States has augmented its Army, Navy and Air Force in the Formosa area. It said this augmentation has established a requirement for centralizing operational control of all forces assigned to the Formosa area.

The announcement said the Joint Chiefs of Staff established the U. S. Formosa Defense Command as a subordinate unified command under the commander in chief, Pacific. Over-all direction remains under Smoot.

Maj.-Gen. Leander Doan, chief of the Military Assistance Advisory Group, is designated commanding general of the U. S.

Exile Government Will Wage Fight For Independence

CAIRO (AP) — The Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN) today proclaimed an Algerian government-in-exile to conduct the fight for its independence from France.

A Cabinet headed by 59-year-old Ferhat Abbas as premier was announced simultaneously at a news conference in Cairo and in Tunis and Morocco.

The Cabinet list included five Algerian rebel leaders now held prisoners by the French.

Abbas read the following declaration: "I have the honor to make this declaration which has been made in Algeria and communicated to all the population on Algerian soil."

"In the name of the Algerian people the National Committee of the Algerian Revolution Algerienne decided to form a provisional government representing the Republic of Algeria."

The announcement said the provisional government began its functions at 1 p. m. Algerian time. The Algerian flag — half green and half white and bearing a red crescent and star — was unfurled from the headquarters building here and beside it fluttered the flag of the United Arab Republic.

Yugoslav Athlete Asks Asylum in Germany

ERLANGEN, Germany (AP) — Blazanka Vodenic, Yugoslav women's ski champion, has asked for political asylum in West Germany.

The 22-year-old athlete, who represented Yugoslavia at the 1956 Olympics, came to Germany with a delegation attending the Frankfurt trade fair last week.

Her husband fled Yugoslavia last year and is now coach for the Bavarian state YMCA basketball league.

Republican Campaigners To Get Limited Help From Ike

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower apparently intends to limit his participation in the congressional campaign to fewer than half a dozen speeches in the final three weeks before the November election.

Republican campaigners, notified Eisenhower won't be available until after Oct. 15, are hoping Vice President Nixon will expand greatly a schedule that now calls for eight speeches in four states.

Although there has been no final decision, Eisenhower is expected to make personal appearances in the East, the Midwest and on the Pacific Coast.

About the only certainty thus far is that Eisenhower will visit California. There Sen. William F. Knowland, retiring as the Senate's minority leader, is facing an uphill battle in his fight for the governorship. GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight also apparently has the odds against him in seeking the Senate seat Knowland is vacating.

While there is no suggestion that Eisenhower's help would be unwelcome to any GOP Senate or House candidate, one Republican strategist said the demand for presidential appearances isn't as great as it was in 1956 or 1954.

On the other hand, Nixon was said to be receiving requests for campaign help that might cause him to reconsider his previous decision against the type of barnstorming he undertook four years ago.

Haggerty Has Ready Reply to Adams Quip

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — A reporter asked at a summer White House news conference: "Whose turn is it to ask if Sherman Adams has resigned?"

Press secretary James C. Haggerty replied with a smile: "Well, I don't know, but it's my turn to say 'no.'"

The question comes up at every Haggerty news conference these days. And Haggerty's answer always is the same — no, Sherman Adams has not resigned as President Eisenhower's chief aide.

Some Republicans have been demanding that Eisenhower get rid of Adams because of his relations with Boston industrialists Bernard Goldfine.

Three Questioned in Pittsburgh Police Probe

Franklin Sending Crowd to Game Here

Since Franklin has urged fans to arrive in Warren early as to be assured of a good seat, we take this opportunity to remind local grid fans that last Saturday's encounter with Corry was a complete sellout and with added interest in the squad, seating at Memorial field will be very limited.

Fan support fired the Dragons' morale to the point where Major Amos B. Hoople has predicted a 21-6 upset — of Franklin (see sports page). Thirty-two men will leave Franklin tomorrow morning at 9 a. m. for the 1:30 kickoff here. Another actual WHS Dragon football will be awarded to a lucky spectator.

Varsity cheerleaders are again selling tickets in Warren's business section this evening. They also will be available at the gate tomorrow.

Vice Consul on Cyprus Shot by Assassin Serious

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — U. S. Vice Consul John Page Wentworth was in dangerous condition today with three bullet wounds inflicted by a young gunman who may have believed he was shooting a Briton.

The gunman fired over the garden fence as Wentworth stood behind his home Thursday night. The 33-year-old diplomat had just been romping with his 3-year-old daughter Caroline. He was hit twice in the stomach and once in the leg.

He was taken to the British military hospital, where his condition was listed as dangerous. The gunman escaped.

Uses Bow and Arrow to Span Walls of Canyon

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP) — This atomic city is convinced the day of the bow and arrow is not over.

Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory — where the world's first atomic bomb was developed — was faced with the problem of stringing wires across a box canyon.

The walls of the canyon were too steep to climb, and the distance too great for throwing a line.

So Harold W. Groves, a lab employee and an expert bow-and-arrow man, unlimbered his equipment, tied some fishing line to the tail of an arrow and zipped it across the canyon.

SMALLER POWERS SAID TO BE TRYING TO HALT DISCUSSION FOR PRESENT

By TOM HOGGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States formally proposed today that the U. N. postpone action on the seating of Red China for at least another year.

The move was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the General Assembly's powerful Steering Committee.

Lodge spoke after Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon urged full debate at the current Assembly session on the highly controversial issue of giving China's seat to the Peiping regime.

The U. S. proposal was similar to motions adopted by the Assembly in previous years. There appeared no doubt that it would be approved again this time.

Lodge told the committee "this year, of all years, is not the time" to consider ousting Nationalist China and seating the Chinese Communists. He made no direct reference to the Chinese Communist attacks on Formosa, but spoke only of "recent developments" in the Far East.

Nationalist China's T. T. Tsiang blasted the Peiping regime as a product of Soviet indirect aggression and subversion, and declared it does not represent the Chinese people. He also asserted it had been branded by the U. N. as an aggressor.

Pressure for an early Steering Committee vote came from the United States and India after Assembly President Malik had postponed the question twice in as many days.

The United States, angered over the repeated delays, was confident the U. N. would follow past procedure and vote to shelve the issue for another year.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was described as shocked by the postponements. A U. S. spokesman said: "We want a vote and we want it now."

The spokesman said the United States did not want to duck debate in the full Assembly by letting the question get bottled up in the Steering Committee.

India's Delegate Arthur S. Lall also said he did not intend to be talked out of pressing his request to give the Peiping government a seat in the U. N. "We are going ahead," he said.

For several years neutralist India has supported Red Chinese claims to a U. N. seat. This year the Soviet press and radio has been laying the groundwork for India's diplomatic move with claims that the Formosa crisis pointed up Peiping's absence from the world forum.

Informed sources said the move to dislodge the United States and India from pressing their rival proposals to a vote came from Ireland, Australia, Canada and Ceylon.

Their move was based on the theory that if the committee votes at all, its report would automatically go to the 81-nation Assembly and touch off fierce public debate over Communist China in the middle of the Warsaw talks on the Formosa Strait crisis.

Better Mail Service In Future Promised

CINCINNATI (AP) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield says there will be better mail service in the future despite a lack of facilities and an increasing volume of mail.

Summerfield was scheduled to be the principal speaker Thursday at the closing convention banquet of the National Association of Postmasters, but a strained throat prevented him from giving the speech in person.

Dep. Postmaster General Edward O. Sessions read it for Summerfield as his boss sat alongside him.

Summerfield said that recent increases in postal rates have not solved the postal deficit.

Jersey Lad Frustrated Too Often Takes His Own Life

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. (AP) — John Brego knew a lot of rejection in his 17 years.

He had hoped desperately for an Army career, but a brutal beating by a gang of youths two years ago affected his heart, rent him to the hospital twice. The Army rejected him.

He finally joined the National Guard, but after a time he had to leave that.

John left school and went to work to help his mother and younger brother. His recurring spells, however, forced him to leave job after job.

Three weeks ago he entered a neighbor's home and offered to give up one of his eyes so a 9-year-old girl, blind for more than four years, could see again.

"Would it be all right if I gave Patricia one of my eyes?" the boy asked Mrs. Michael Misak.

"I can have one and she can have one — and then we both can see. Please, make the arrangements, if it's all right with you."

Mrs. Misak was touched by John's offer, but in all humanity she had to reject him too.

Police found him Thursday hanging from a baseball backstop at a local recreation field.

Penelec Given Job Safety Award At State Meeting

Employees of Pennsylvania Electric Company were presented with a certificate for working 1,602,104 manhours consecutively without a disabling accident at the 51st annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Electric Association in the Penn-Sheraton Hotel, Pittsburgh, Wednesday.

Earl J. Miller, Johnstown, system safety engineer for the local company, accepted the award on behalf of the employees from J. O. Chambers, Greensburg, P. E. A. president, who commended the Penelec employees for their accomplishment and urged them to continue observing safe working practices which made the outstanding record possible. Miller also praised the utility employees for their safety consciousness as well as their cooperation and support in implementing the company's safety program.

In praising Penelec for its achievement, the P. E. A. president added that the utility industry throughout the Commonwealth can be proud of its accident prevention record. The average accident frequency rate for all electric companies in the Association was only 3.524 (number of accidents per million manhours worked), while the average for electric utilities nationwide was 6.39, according to the National Safety Council. Pennsylvania electric companies, Chambers said, have a consistently better average. Accident prevention record than electric utilities nationally.

More than 750 representatives of the State's investor-owned independent electric companies are attending the two-day meeting devoted to discussion and study of ways in which the individual companies can continue to supply dependable low-cost electricity while helping to build the future of their own communities and the Commonwealth. Speakers include experts on finance, salesmanship, agriculture, natural resources and public welfare.

"Sidewalk Bargain Fiesta" Is Planned

Retail Merchants sales promotion committee chairman Joe Krimmel today issued an invitation to local organizations to take part in the October community-wide promotion "Sidewalk Bargain Fiesta."

Mr. Krimmel said the retail merchants would be pleased to have church groups, fraternal and civic clubs or any other type organization participate in the Friday and Saturday event, October 10 and 11 by placing exhibits or conducting bake sales, selling bazaar items etc.

Any group which wants to display during the Fiesta should call the Chamber of Commerce office, 470, and ask that space be reserved for them. The Fiesta promotion is expected to attract huge throngs of area citizens in an atmosphere of carnival fun.

More details of the affair in which 70 merchants will participate will be announced soon; in the meantime it is important for groups wishing to participate to contact the chamber office.

President To Be Celebration Guest In Westmoreland

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—This little Westmoreland County community about 50 miles east of Pittsburgh got ready today for a week-long bicentennial celebration scheduled to be featured by the appearance of President Eisenhower.

Preliminary celebrating already is underway but the actual celebration runs from next Sunday through Saturday, Sept. 27.

The president is tentatively scheduled to be in Ligonier at 3 p.m. Friday, Sept. 26. His exact schedule has not been announced by the White House.

The community, site of historic Fort Ligonier, has been making preparations for the affair the past two years. Just about everyone in the town has been helping a committee headed by Chairman Charles Nicely.

A street dance is scheduled to-night and a public wedding will take place Saturday night.

The formal celebration begins Sunday with commemorative services at all churches.

Fort Ligonier, which has been restored, is expected to be visited by thousands. A group of Seneca Indians from Akron, N.Y., will be camped at the fort throughout the week, displaying their skill and crafts.

The fort served a vital purpose in early American history as "the Key to the West." It was never taken by the enemy. Several attacks by the French and Indians were repulsed in October, 1758.

After resting and reprovisioning at Fort Ligonier, General Forbes' army occupied Fort Duquesne on Nov. 25, 1758.

Fort Ligonier served as a refuge for settlers throughout the INDIAN WARS. With Fort Pitt, it was the only American stronghold that did not fall during the Pontiac Wars of 1763. It was officially abandoned in 1765.

Local Girl Visits Goodwill Industries

Seen making her first visit to Buffalo Goodwill Industries, is Marilou Anderegg, local Goodwill representative, who with Mary Ann Baumer, supervisor of the out-of-town department, is observing the busy switchboard that serves offices and the new plant which employs several hundred handicapped people and each year rehabilitates many for employment in industry. Generous contributions of used clothing, toys and appliances by citizens of Warren give our community a vital part in this important work. On Monday, September 22nd, the Goodwill truck will make a house to house canvass in Warren and Youngsville as well as a community pick-up at the Chancellors Valley Evangelical United Brethren church. To have the truck stop at your door, call Warren 3021.

State Highway Department Has More Paper Work

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Highways Department bookkeeping section—in the wake of recent cinder purchase scandals — has quite a bit more work to do these days in handling bills for materials.

But Secretary Lewis M. Stevens says he doesn't mind one bit. In fact, he looks on it as money well spent.

The additional paper work began several months ago in a "general tightening up" of purchasing procedures of the department following charges of cheating, some of which still are being aired in the courts.

"We have established a somewhat tighter system of cross-check on purchases in a move to guard even more against any possibility of swindling in the sale of materials to the department," Stevens said.

A spokesman for the comptroller's bureau in the department said the new safeguards were put into operation after conferences with the auditor general's office and Highways Department officials.

"For instance," he said, "we now require that every individual delivery slip for cinders be sent from the county office to the department in Harrisburg where they are checked against the general invoice before it is sent to the auditor general for payment approval."

"Under the old system, in use for many years, the actual delivery slips with signatures of the deliverer and receiver never left the county office," he added.

California Professor Has Helpful Hints for Students

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Millions of students are back in class wondering if they have what it takes to shine as scholars.

They should lend an ear to Dr. Leslie N. Nason, professor of education at the University of Southern California. He's specialized for 20 years in helping students do better at exams.

Study habits, he says, can make all the difference. And he has a lot of helpful hints.

Here are some he devised for college freshmen—"the freshman year is an ideal time to cultivate proper methods"—but which should benefit students at other levels:

"1. Read the material in the table of contents of whatever book you are studying.

"2. Read the first paragraph or two of the first chapter.

"3. Skim through the chapter rapidly.

"4. Read the summary at the end of the chapter.

"Then start reading the chapter carefully. At the end of each paragraph, ask yourself, 'What did the writer say?' And if you can't answer this question, you were reading too slowly.

"Slow reading allows extraneous thoughts and material to penetrate the consciousness. Reading faster serves to whip the mind to a faster rate of operation, thus limiting the circle of perception exclusively to the material at hand."

On lectures:

"You have to prepare for the lecture by glancing at the material to be lectured on beforehand. You get an over-all pattern in mind. You are filling up mind space which is not utilized by the lecturer. He's not talking fast enough to fill up your mind.

"There is a little game you ought to play. If the lecturer is too slow, try to anticipate what he will say about the subject. If you do that, then the entire circle of perception is filled either with the lecturer's ideas or with the over-all pattern of the subject matter."

Questions and Answers

Q—My GI schooling was interrupted more than a year ago when my father was sick and I had to take a job. I understand I may now continue my schooling under a liberalization of VA's regulations. What do I have to do?

A—You should receive soon an application form from the VA. Fill this out completely and return it. VA will send you certification authorizing you to return to school.

Q—One of our neighbors is a widow of a Confederate veteran and is, I believe, eligible for a pension under a new law. I would like to help her get her pension. How can I do that?

A—Your neighbor will be required to fill out and return an application form which may be obtained from any VA office. If it appears from the completed form that she is eligible, she will receive payments automatically.

Q—I am a Korea veteran with a noncompensable dental condition resulting from an injury received while I was in service. Do I have to apply for outpatient dental care within a year from my discharge or can I get treatment at any time?

A—You may apply at any time and receive as many treatments as are needed for your condition.

Q—I have been ordered to support my two children, who are in legal custody of my former wife. Can I get a GI loan to buy a house for them to live in?

A—No. VA requires that you certify that you intend to reside in a house bought with a GI loan. The court order that you must support the children does not alter the fact that you do not intend to live in the house yourself.

Can you imagine trying to reform a Communist with kindness and love?

"We think it works," said the young professor. "Come and see."

So this correspondent, on a recent trip to Formosa and Quemoy, spent the night in one of the most unusual "schools" in the world. It is near Taipei, capital of the exiled Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa.

Surrounded by walls, and with armed guards in watchtowers, it looks more like a penal institution. But they call it a school. The grounds are "the campus." When a man or woman is allowed to leave, they say he has "graduated."

It is a reformatory for Chinese Communists.

Formosa is only 120 miles from the coast of Red China. In their unending war, the two regimes continually slip agents into each other's territory.

When the Nationalists catch a Communist, or even a fellow-traveler, they put him in this school.

He stays at least three years. Then if the instructors are convinced he has changed, they release him.

"But isn't this plain brain washing?" I asked. "It sounds like the same thing the Communists do."

"Just the reverse," said the Chinese professor.

"They use force. We never touch a man. They preach hate. We teach love. We try to make a man feel that he belongs to a family, and is loved, as in any family."

More than half the day is devoted to political instruction.

"But we encourage them to argue freely about Communist doctrine. We counter every point with the teachings of Dr. Sun." Sun Yat-sen, the revolutionist, wrote the "Three principles of the People," advocating democracy.

"We sometimes answer their arguments with the sayings of Washington and Lincoln."

Each man gets vocational training—carpentry, mechanics, rice milling, weaving, shirt-making, printing and newspaper composition, and agriculture.

"Here, again, there is no coercion," said the professor. "Each person freely chooses the trade he wants to learn."

They reason that a man who has a special trade, and can earn a better living, is less likely to fall for the Communist line. Statistics showed that the great majority of those who had come to the school as Reds were farmers or soldiers, many of them illiterate.

Each man also has a bit of ground for gardening. Some raise flowers, the majority vegetables—and they are encouraged to sell the produce, thus indulging in that Communist anathema, private enterprise.

The sound of children singing floated across the yard.

"That's our kindergarten," said the professor. "There are always a few women here. Those who have children can keep them here. They play games and get a little schooling while their mothers are at work."

He said one of the women had been planted by the Reds as a housemaid in the home of an American officer to spy on him.

Finally, I asked the pay-off question: "When you release a man, how can you be sure he isn't merely pretending to have given up his Communist ideas? How can anyone tell?"

"They are watched, of course," he said. "They know that."

"But this is much more significant: Many come back to visit us and they frequently say 'I feel that this is my home and my family.'"

Can you cure communism with love and reason? In this unique "school," they firmly believe so.

Interest Lags in Adult Classes at Eisenhower High

A count of persons who registered for adult education classes in Eisenhower High School during the first semester of the present school year has revealed that no course has yet received a sufficient number of participants to enable it to be offered.

At the present time considerable desire for courses in arts and crafts, bookkeeping, driver education, home economics, shop, and typing has been indicated, but additional students are needed before any of them can be offered.

Because it is possible that other students who have not yet registered may be planning to do so, the registration period for these courses has been prolonged for one week. Classes will not meet next Monday, September 22, as originally planned, and in their place an additional registration period will be conducted in the high school office from 7:00 until 9:00 p. m. Registrants will receive word concerning the courses which will be offered after that registration session.

It is believed the detour situation which surrounds the Eisenhower High School building is largely responsible for the lack of sufficient interest. It is believed this will be somewhat improved as soon as weather permits, and it is hoped persons seriously considering enrolling for school work will not permit this to be too great a deterrent in carrying out their desires.

In the event a person registers for a course which can not be conducted when registration is completed, the $5 fee will be refunded in full.

DRAGON BY THE TAIL

Even if important strategic factors were not involved in the Far Eastern crisis, the strange status of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist government on Formosa and lesser islands would inevitably perplex U. S. diplomats seeking a sensible course in the Pacific, says Bruce Blossat, in an editorial written for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror.

Wars, civil and otherwise, usually end either with the victor crushing the loser's armies in the field, gaining an unconditional surrender or some sort of negotiated armistice under which the loser disarms at least partly.

But the Chinese Communist-Nationalist civil war did not end in any of those ways. Though beaten on the mainland, Chiang got away safely to the big island of Formosa with several hundred thousand troops. He also clung to the tiny offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Thus in a very real sense the civil war is still unfinished. There is no settlement, Chiang's armies still exist.

The Reds want to finish him off of course. Their task is complicated, however, by the fact that Chiang's fortress of retreat is an island that America regards as a major link in its outer defense arc.

Furthermore, though Chiang has not been crushed, neither does he appear to have the military capacity to strike back at the Reds with real effect. American support keeps his "nation in exile" alive.

Yet, despite the fact that his domain is greatly shrunken, Chiang and his Nationalists still sit in the United Nations as "free China" and hold one of the five Security Council seats reserved for the "great powers."

America was on Chiang's side from the outset, for he led a Chinese republic against communism. Once committed, we have neither been able nor have we wished to abandon him so long as his government remained in being. And this almost surely would be so even if Formosa was just another island to us.

We nevertheless know that we have a puzzle on our hands. We may be able to keep the Red Chinese from completing Chiang's downfall, but short of major war we cannot help him back to mainland power.

If neither defeat no restoration to the mainland are likely to follow, then the big question may be how long his government, under him or a successor, can be held in the kind of suspended animation it has known for nearly a decade.

Seldom, if ever, in history has any government so handicapped clung so long to life. But neither we nor the Nationalist Chinese nor anybody else seems to have any idea of what comes next.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is like a man gingerly showing a piece of steak towards a tiger, only to have the tiger roar at him: "I said a big piece of steak."

He could have guessed it wasn't big enough for the Communist appetite when he proposed Thursday—in a mild speech at the United Nations—a cease-fire as a preliminary for bringing peace to the Formosa area.

The Red Chinese and Soviets both jumped him. The Peiping radio blasted the idea: "There is no question of a cease-fire since China and the United States are not at war."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko let go at him with this: Only a complete U. S. military withdrawal from the entire Formosa area, including Formosa, would bring peace to the Far East.

This was bad enough. But it wasn't all. To still another idea put in circulation by American officials, but unofficially and perhaps as a trial balloon, a representative of America's ally, Chiang Kai-shek, said: "Nuts."

This was the idea that maybe, if the Red Chinese agreed to a cease-fire, some arrangement could be worked out to demilitarize Quemoy. That couldn't sit well with Chiang and probably wouldn't with the Red Chinese either.

Demilitarizing Quemoy would almost certainly require withdrawal of Chiang's troops back to the Formosa stronghold and thus mean the end of all his talk, and Nationalist hopes, of retaking the China mainland someday.

He'd hardly agree to this himself. He'd have to be pressured into it by the United States. But would the Red Chinese settle for the mere demilitarization of Quemoy which they claim as their own? Probably not.

Newsman Thursday tackled Chiang's new ambassador to the United States, George Yeh. They asked about the demilitarization idea, and first got this answer: The Eisenhower administration "has not told us officially" about such a proposal.

But when asked what he himself thought of it, Yeh replied in un-Chinese language: "Demilitarization, I think is nuts."

All of which illustrates how the United States let Chiang get it into a box and slam the lid. Now it wants out. Explaining how it got in is easier than how it is to get out.

The United States is pledged to defend Chiang's forces on Formosa. (Turn to Page Six)

Here and There

An account of a Republican meeting during a hot fall election campaign in the county back in September, 1878, is reprinted from the files of the Warren Weekly Ledger as follows: Wednesday night of this week a Republican meeting was held in Roscoe Hall. Osmer, their candidate for Congress, and Gen. Beaver were advertised to speak. The General was not present, but Col. Curtis of Erie acted as his substitute. Eight o'clock arrived and no audience. Consternation was depicted upon the faces of the local candidates and all in direct interest, but everybody else was laughing. D. Dinsmoor, Esq., of Elk, said he was among the first to join the Republican party, and he had now come down to officiate at its funeral. Dinsmoor has been a staunch Republican for many years. At last a number of Democrats and Greenbackers, having pity on the speakers agreed to go up and give the meeting a respectable appearance at least as to number. Before this there had gathered fifteen or twenty Republicans and about an equal number of other denominations. This latter addition swelled the number to about seventy. M. Miles, Esq., man of all work was chosen President, and his title to the place was clearer than Mr. Hayes' title. The speakers, headed by Col. L. F. Watson, filed in upon the rostrum, all looking serious. They saw a large hall with but few listeners. But the number grew to something like one hundred. Mr. Osmer began his hard-money speech with all, but about thirty, of his audience opposed to him. Two or three times there were thin cheers, like it would be at a Democratic meeting in Farmington. He charged the greater part of the public debt upon the Democrats, and giving them sundry cuts, but his argument was framed expressly for Republican Greenbackers, who laughed at him and his arguments. Even Republicans went away declaring they would vote the Democratic ticket, and others said they had been Republicans, but now would vote the Greenback ticket. He spoke nearly an hour and gave way for Col. Curtis. At this point a large part of the audience left. But the Col. made his speech, and those who remained said he was funny. The first meeting was really and truly a magnificent failure. The sum total of the audience, when all in, did not exceed one hundred, and not over thirty Republicans at that. It is generally noticed by the observing ones that most hard money advocates wear diamond pins in their shirt bosoms. This is not a good year for Republican meetings in Warren. We have all heard of the honesty of the Republican party, but never learning that it fulfilled a promise. We never are, but always to be blessed by it. He talked of honesty, honest politicians and honest money, but never said a word about honest elections, or how the Republicans swindled the people out of the man they elected President. Perhaps at some future time the managers will be rewarded by a better audience, a better speaker and a more sympathetic audience. It is a downright fact that we were sorry it was no more of a success."

Taken from the same issue is another ditty concerning Swedes and the Republican party: "The Swedes of this county, have as a class always voted the Republican ticket. They have been charged with being under bonds to the Swede preacher of Chandler's Valley. His people have relied upon him of political provender as well as moral. He has uniformly voted the Republican ticket, and advised his flock 'o do likewise, and generally it has done so. But it is now rumored that he is of late a trifle crooked in his business. His name is Lindenblad. Not long since, as the story goes, he was given $150 of good, hard Republican money, by Republicans to send to Chicago for Swede political documents to distribute among his people. It has turned out, if we are rightly informed, that he put $75 in his pocket, and for some reason sent but $75 for documents. The publishers have so informed inquiring friends, who for some reason began to suspect that he was keeping back a part of that which should have been sent. This is a grave charge to bring against a minister of the gospel. He is undoubtedly acting after Sherman's pattern hoarding up for the present, that he may be able to resume special payments on the first day of January. It is a part of the Republican plan; but still Mr. Lindenblad will hardly be excused by his people, if the rumor turns out to be true, and hereafter they may consider themselves able to come to a political conclusion without the pastor's aid. We are in receipt of the above information from a source that we are not for the present prepared to dispute."

The "Back the Dragons" campaign is still under way in Warren and will continue through the last big game with the Jamestown Red Raiders at War Memorial Field here in Warren Saturday, November 8th. What has been described as the largest opening day crowds in the history of the Blue & White was on hand for the first game last Saturday with the Corry Beavers furnishing the competition. Backers of the project to arouse interest in the home team are hopeful that the attendance for the game tomorrow with Franklin as the attraction will be equally as large. Back the Dragons and go out to Memorial Field Saturday afternoon—game time, 1:30!

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (23)—New Age of Exploration

(1) After an absence of nearly two years, the Mars explorers return to a jubilant reception on Earth. Just as Columbus' voyage across an unknown sea fired the imagination of Europe and opened the great age of discovery on this world, so the successful bridging of the 35-million-mile (at minimum) gulf separating Earth and Mars will usher in the great age of exploration of other worlds.

(2) These worlds, the planets that make up our solar system, are depicted in roughly relative size and order from the Sun: (a) Mercury, (b) Venus, (c) Earth, (d) Mars, (e) Jupiter, (f) Saturn, (g) Uranus, (h) Neptune and (i) Pluto. Generations will pass before man, driven by his insatiable curiosity, ventures as close to the Sun as little Mercury, or as far as the very limit of the solar system, to lonely, frozen Pluto.

Before that, other Mars expeditions will seek to set up permanent colonies on that planet.

After that, Venus, called Earth's sister planet, will beckon. Investigating Venus will be a totally new adventure, for ever-present clouds mask its surface from our view. But here, as with Mars, the quest for possible life will spur men on.

And just what are the rings of Saturn composed of? And what are its nine moons like? Or the 12 of Jupiter, the five of Uranus and the two of Neptune? And the uncounted asteroids lying in a belt between Mars and Jupiter?

And will men ever reach the stars, seen behind the flaming solar disk? Or other galaxies, those

Upcoming U.N. Session Has Bulging, Volatile Agenda

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — United Nations General Assembly, convening for its 13th regular session in New York, will begin scrapping right away.

The election of this year's president will be first order of business. There was a long fight on this last year, ending in compromise. It gave the presidency to Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand for the first half of the two-year term.

The understanding was that Foreign Minister Charles Malik of Lebanon would be elected president this year. The United States still supports Malik. But the Arab League countries have switched their support to Foreign Minister Mohammed Ahmed Mahgoub of Sudan. He is said to be more in sympathy with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic than the pro-Western Malik.

SECRETARY GENERAL DAG HAMMARSKJOLD has until Sept. 30 to make his report on the Middle East, which may stir up another major hassle. His trip through the area has been rumored as unsuccessful in getting agreement on establishing a U.N. "presence" in the area to maintain peace.

Mr. Hammarskjold will make another report later in the session on establishment of a permanent U.N. police force.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is again heading the Russian delegation to the U.N. He is expected to repeat demands for immediate withdrawal of American and British troops, ahead of establishing a U.N. force in the Middle East.

The Formosa crisis is not on the preliminary agenda of 68 items, but it could be added later.

IN ELECTING THREE NEW members to the Security Council, the Argentine is expected to replace Colombia, and Italy to replace Sweden. There is a contest between Iran and Tunisia, however, for the seat now held by Iraq.

Three questions on revision of the U.N. charter to increase the number of seats on the Security Council, Economic and Social Council and World Court are not expected to win approval. The U.S. position is that all three bodies should be enlarged in keeping with U.N. growth from 51 to 82 members. Asia in particular is said to lack representation.

India has proposed discussion of Communist China's admission to the U.N. This will again raise Russian demands for assigning Nationalist China's Security Council seat to Red China.

India also proposes discussion of control over Antarctica. This has increased importance in view of International Geophysical Year explorations in South Polar regions.

ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW 25-nation Disarmament Commission, approved last year, will raise a number of related questions. This Commission, replacing the old 12-nation group and its five-power subcommittee, has never met. Russia has announced it will boycott the new group, preferring full General Assembly action.

Discussion of the recent U.N. experts' report on effects of atomic radiation will probably bring new demands for suspension of atomic tests, though this subject is to be negotiated by the United States and Russia at Geneva, beginning in October.

Bulk of items on the U.N. agenda is made up of hardy perennials carried over from previous sessions. They include Korea, Palestine refugees, South West Africa, Algeria, Togoland, human rights, freedom of information, and U.N. aid to underdeveloped countries. On this last item, the U.S. has offered to contribute 40 per cent of any program set up.

NEW YORK (AP)—Belief that business recovery won't be stemmed by an auto strike is somewhat tempered today by worry over the possible inflationary aspects of the new labor pact at Ford.

Both labor and management insist that the new wage hikes and other benefits are noninflationary.

The public will probably make up its mind about that after it sees:

1. The prices for the new models.
2. The psychological effect, if any, on wage negotiations in other industries now under way or to start in coming months.

In the matter of prices it's noted that the current settlement provides a much smaller wage boost than was made in the 1955 settlement. The big hike at that time was widely believed to have helped trigger the rise in the cost of living that has continued up to now.

Today's argument is that the present smaller wage boost might be absorbed by increased productivity and efficiency in the plants and by dealers in the present more competitive market.

The new car prices also will be affected by rising costs other than labor. Prices of some materials, notably steel, have risen recently, following a wage boost in that industry. The costs of getting materials to the auto plants and of getting cars and trucks to dealers also have risen.

The first price list on 1959 models, that of Buick, was announced before the Ford agreement, which is expected to set a pattern for General Motors and Chrysler as well. The Buick prices might have taken into consideration an expected wage hike, but they offer few clues. They range from $63 more than Buick's lowest priced model last year to $491 less than its highest priced.

Labor leaders and labor relations executives belittle the belief that one industry's labor contract sets a pattern for others.

Outsiders aren't so sure. The Auto Workers Union, seeking a new contract with the makers of farm machinery, seem likely to be swayed by the settlement they made with Ford. The Electrical Workers Union also deals with the auto industry.

Since World War II there appears to have been a definite pattern among similar industries.

With auto labor peace apparently in the final stages of negotiation, economic interest in Detroit will now concentrate on the public reception of the new models which will be making their bows in increasing volume.

Recovery hasn't been tripped up by an auto strike. Now it's to be seen if increased auto sales can help get recovery out of low gear.

Mrs. John Trauffer Is Chosen New President of Co. WCTU Members

Mrs. John Trauffer, of Warren, was elected president of Warren County WCTU in sessions of the 84th annual convention held in Sugar Grove Methodist church Wednesday. Others elected to serve with her were:

Vice president, Mrs. Bessie Johnson; recording secretary, Mrs. Iva Belle Richard; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gladys Jamieson; treasurer, Miss Margaret Douglas.

Others elected were the following secretaries: White Ribbon Recruits, Clara Wickstrom; Joyal Temperance Legion, Mrs. Esther Swanson. WCTU county directors: Armed services, Mrs. Iva Belle Richard; character education, Mrs. C. C. Johnson; flower mission and relief, Mrs. Edna Duff; health and medical temperance, Mrs. Ethel Summerville; institutes, Mrs. Trauffer.

International relations for peace, Mrs. Carrie Meredith; natural fruit juices, Mrs. Marie Deshner, publicity, Mrs. Luel-a Mallory; parliamentary law, Edith Langdale; radio and television, Mrs. Bessie Johnson; scientific temperance, Mrs. Gladys Jamieson; speech contests, Mrs. Gertrude Allenson; Spiritual Life, Mrs. Edith Kapp; temperance education in church schools, Mrs. Kapp; temperance and missions, Mrs. Viola Putnam; visual education, Mrs. Bessie Johnson.

Youngville WCTU invited the county convention to that community in the fall of 1959, sessions to be held in the Methodist church.

Mrs. Neil Scott, Sugar Grove, was musician for the opening session, when Mrs. O. R. Swanson gave devotions and Clara Wickstrom led the flag salutes. Reports were given by Mrs. Gladys Jamieson, Mrs. Viola Putnam and Mrs. John Mallory; Poster and Essay awards were presented to children of Tid-oute and Lacy Schools; Mrs. Mabel Moyer gave the pre-lection prayer; Mrs. Josephine Draker offered the consecration and noontide prayer.

After a bountiful meal at 12:30 p. m., many more persons came to the afternoon session. Devotions were led by Rev. Alvin Rhodes, Mrs. John Bunney sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked"; and greetings from Sugar Grove Union and the churches were extended by Flossie Broughton and Rev. R. E. Williams, Mrs. Marie Deshner giving the response.

Mrs. Edith Kapp, county

president, used for her annual message the topic "Faith in an Atomic Age", basing her remarks on the 34th Psalm, "Let's determine to serve our Lord in every possible way."

The offering was in charge of Mrs. Viola Putnam; Judy and James Williams sang "Jesus Bids Us Shine"; and Mrs. Mabel Dallas of Jamestown gave an inspirational review of the national convention.

Mrs. Jamieson conducted the Memorial Service, Mrs. Richard placing white glads in the altar vase; Rev. Martin installed the newly-elected officers. Mrs. Kapp was presented a gift in recognition of her 16 years as county president.

Prepared by the committee were the following resolutions officially adopted by the group:

"We, the members of the Warren County Women's Christian Temperance Union in session in Sugar Grove, September 17, 1958, recognize our responsibility and that of all Christian people to take action against the greatest danger facing our nation today—the infiltration of beverage alcohol into the homes and activities of our people.

"Recognizing the increasing need for temperance education which will encourage total abstinence as the Christian way of life, we urge church members to feel the responsibility of setting an example of total abstinence and recommend that churches set up a definite program of education.

"We urge that teaching regarding alcohol and narcotics be from a standpoint of total abstinence and that it be presented only by those adequately trained.

"We urge that our state join the 27 which now have chemical tests for drinking drivers and to strengthen such laws which already exist.

"Because of the serving of alcoholic beverages on planes, we urge the Congress to act on the legislation that has been requested.

"Because of the continued pressure to drink, through the media of advertising, television, and motion pictures we urge support of legislation to ban same.

"PATRONIZING STORES: Resolved that we urge our members and all peoples favoring sobriety to patronize those places of business which refuse to profit financially from sale of alcoholic beverages.

"PLEASE: We appeal to Christians everywhere to seek and pray for a peaceful solution of international differences and for the application of atomic energy to peaceful purposes."

Seneca School Group Begins Busy Season

Initial meeting of Seneca Teacher-Parent Unit for the current year was held at the school Wednesday evening, conducted by Ann Summons, president, who presented the following chairman for the year:

Devotions, Arvilla Campbell; civil defense, Bruce Harding; flowers, Mollie Meacham; hospitality, Helen Kyler; parliamentarian, Grace Bell; publicity, Mary Ann Buerkle; membership, Patricia Moore.

Devotions were led by Mary Knapp; the program for the year was presented by the chairman, Helen Williamson, and the budget for the year was discussed and accepted. Several possible projects were referred to the program and finance committees, the first to be a paper drive and pie social, both this week.

Members were made aware of the crowded condition of the school, with 72 students in two rooms and additional children being sent to both McClintock and East Street schools. It was also pointed out multiple grade rooms have long been considered undesirable. Because of these conditions, a committee was appointed to approach the school board requesting an addition to the current school or at least an investigation of the situation. Those appointed were June Dates, chairman; Ellen Smith, Elmer Mellander, Ed Karynowski and Alan Buerkle.

Attendance award was won by Miss Bell's room. Mrs. Williamson presented Kathryn Knapp, who spoke on

Shift Books to Balance Shoulders

Teen-agers who don't want to wind up with one shoulder higher than the other should learn now the effective trick of shifting books (or bundles) from one arm to the other. This distributes the weight evenly and also makes the toting less tiresome for you.

Right along with this, avoid the business of clutching books to your chest, lest you turn out round-shouldered. Many teen-agers make use of a lightweight case for carrying books. This is a good idea since it simplifies the whole thing, keeps the books together and makes it possible to shift the case from one hand to the other with ease.

These zipped cases come equipped with a carrying handle that makes the whole load seem a lot lighter.

transition fashions are a girl's best friends: dark cottons, wool knits and dark silk prints. It's also the time to put life in the old wardrobe through accessories. Toot out your new fall shoes and wear them. Discard summer's white cotton gloves and perk up your dark clothes with gloves in brilliant colors. Wear some of your new costume jewelry in deep and flashing colors. Put away your summer cologne and floral scents and get out those rich and sophisticated perfumes that suggest autumn.

All of these are ways to help you feel prettier and therefore to look prettier to others.

As nearly as anyone can figure out, there are about 40 million overweight people in this country today. That means a lot of extra pounds are being carried around uselessly.

It also means poor health, bad figures, clothes problems and, quite likely, social problems arising from an unattractive appearance. For the truth is, almost any woman looks better when she sheds weight.

To do this, you need to cut calories. You don't need to starve yourself but you do need to discipline yourself. You do need to cut out between-meal snacks and you do need, until the extra weight is off, to be conscious of every single thing you eat. This means three carefully planned meals a day, no liquor, no candy, and a strong will marshaled to resist temptation.

But the effort pays off remember, in a younger-looking, prettier, slimmer you who can wear the new fashions beautifully.

Types of Memberships Available Defined by Warren Players Club

With the announcement of Warren Players' schedule for the 1958-1959 season, much question has arisen among newcomers to the community as to whether or not one new member should be active to join.

Warren Players' has long operated on a dual type of membership. Many persons wish to take advantage of the opportunity to see four plays during the season without actually participating in their production. For these people, Warren Players' offers an Associate Membership, one which entitles the member to see all four plays and obtain the best seats on any night of their performance.

This convenience is offered so that the member can plan on the evening he wishes to attend a given play and can secure his reserved seat tickets well in advance. The cost of this membership is only $4.00, entitling the holder to see four Broadway-quality shows for $100 a piece. Perhaps this is why the membership is billed as Warren's Biggest Entertainment Bargain.

When five was made the usual play was for declarer to ruff the opening club lead, draw trumps with two leads and lead a spade to the ten.

Later on he would cash dummy's king of spades and note the fall of the eight from East. He would get back to his own hand and lead the jack of spades. West would cover with the queen and dummy would ruff. East would have to drop the nine and South's seven spot would be high.

At a couple of tables East was smart enough to realize that he had too much stuff in three suits and too little in hearts to afford to stay out of the bidding. He doubled for takeout at his first turn to bid. South still went to four hearts, but now West was able to go to five diamonds.

One West got out for down one. He lost a diamond and a heart, but guessed the spade situation and lost only one trick there. The other West misguessed the spades and went down two tricks, but his minus score of 300 was still good for one point from top.

The Mature Parent

'My Life Is Over' Can Be Trumpet Call of Freedom

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The Dixon's two older children are married. This fall their youngest child left home to take up residence in his college's freshman dormitory.

Almost at once, black depression settled over his mother. Yesterday as she cleaned his room the hopelessness that has been bubbling just under the surface of her consciousness broke through so that she said aloud to herself, "Ted will never really live in this room again. I am an old woman. My life is over. From here on everything I do will be as meaningless as this keeping of a room for a child who no longer needs it."

Who is it whose life is over, Mrs. Dixon?

It is, I think, the life of a woman who has invested all her pride in her usefulness to other people.

Under these circumstances we are bound to feel depressed when the other people stop needing our usefulness.

The conventional advice to women in Mrs. Dixon's spot is "Get out of yourself. Find new interests. Do good works. Seek some activity that will restore your sense of usefulness to other people."

It is mistaken advice. Nine times out of 10 what we need is to learn to become useful to ourselves. Instead of trying to "get out" of ourselves, we need to try to get back into ourselves for a change.

For example, Mrs. Dixon's body is overweight and flabby. Though she's worked hard to give her children firm, muscular bodies, her own neglected one is subject to aches and pains whenever she puts any unusual exertion upon it. Her answer lies not in more of that usefulness to others that will restore her pride in it—but in a good swimming workout for herself three times a week at her local Y.

Unless pride in doing for children is balanced by pride in doing for ourselves, we are not living for the future.

For when the children leave us, they leave nothing for the pride to feed on. We begin to feel Mrs. Dixon's sense of decay and blight. We think, "My life is over." But what is dying in us is not our life—it's that unbalanced pride of ours in usefulness to others. Its death is making way for birth.

Good Toothbrush Stands Up and Fights Decay

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Did you know that brushing your teeth improperly can actually cause tooth decay?

The reason for this is that improper brushing lacerates the gums and causes them to shrink from the base of the teeth, thus allowing room for decay.

Brushing is, of course, essential to healthy teeth and does prevent decay. But it's important to brush the right way and to use a brush which is not too hard or stiff.

The right way to brush, your dentist will tell you, is to brush only three or four teeth at one sweep. Your teeth are curved, not straight, and brushing them in one straight sweep across can contribute to corrosion of the enamel.

One scientifically designed brush now on the market has inner bristles that are thick and stiff and outer bristles that are softer and thinner. This is meant to provide exactly the right combination for doing an efficient job of brushing.

To get in between your teeth.

This girl uses a new toothbrush which combines soft and hard bristles for maximum brushing and cleaning efficiency.

make regular use of dental floss. It's a great router of decay and should be used at least once a day without fail.

WCS GATHERING HAS INTERESTING SESSION

New officers were in charge of the first fall meeting of Grace Methodist WSCS, held in Fellowship Hall Tuesday. For the devotional period the "Lord's Prayer" was given in song and recitation, with Louella Hammerbeck as soloist, Helen Brydon giving the recitation and Judy Hammerbeck playing piano accompaniment. Reports given by various officers and committee chairmen indicated plans for a busy year are well underway.

Mrs. Brydon introduced the guest speaker, Miss Frances Fulton, missionary to Korea, who brought many interesting highlights on present mission work in Korea, including interesting facts concerning problems which confront young people of that country because of the greater freedom they now have in making their own choice in matters of dress, selection of school schedules, etc.

A reverent and inspirational pledge service was conducted by Mrs. Flora Haupt. Hostesses were members of Mary Harwood Circle, Mrs. Mabel Adams, chairman and Mrs. Hazel Dalrymple, co-chairman.

BARBARA HECK CIRCLE MEETING

Members of Barbara Heck Circle of First Methodist church opened their fall program with a meeting at the home of Mrs. William Wright, with Mrs. Byron W. Knapp presiding, and Mrs. S. Knox Hauger leading devotions.

Mrs. Leon Laskarski led a discussion of projects to be planned by the circle. Mrs. Charles Eaton suggested a collection of children's piano music to be sent to the youngsters at Henderson Settlement in Kentucky, and mentioned the need for discarded costume jewelry for church bazaars in India.

Members talked of knitting squares for an Afghan to go to a needy person. They also discussed "adoption" of a State Hospital patient. Three memberships were received for the Sunset Auxiliary at the Methodist Home in Meadville.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eaton, 409 Conewango avenue.

sa but not the Quemoy and Matsu islands near the mainland. Dulles has said the islands by themselves are not worth going to war for.

But Chiang moved so many of his troops to Quemoy from Formosa that, if they were overwhelmed by the Red Chinese, not only would he suffer disaster but the American problem of holding Formosa would be complicated too.

Yet the United States didn't oppose his moving the troops to Quemoy. Now the United States is in the position of having to defend them.

President Eisenhower gave this as a reason for fighting for Quemoy. The Communists shouldn't be allowed to shoot their way into what they want. This, however, has not been a consistent American principle. For example, the United States let the Communists take half of Viet Nam—but not Korea—and it stood by helplessly when the Soviets crushed the Hungarian revolt.

So, unless there is war, the jockeying, maneuvering, gum-bating and shooting will probably continue for quite awhile without any real answers at all.

Materials and impetus for the project were furnished by the Grange and its Master, Lester Akeley. For St. John's credit goes to the presidents and faithful members of the Men and Women of St. John's, H. Allen Petersen and Mrs. Lyle Snavely.

Presbyterian Women's Japanese Party

Members of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian church were greeted in true Japanese manner when they arrived for their Thursday evening meeting, the hostesses, Mrs. H. L. Banghart, Miss Mary Craft and Mrs. T. J. Crozier attired in becoming kimonos.

After removing their shoes, guests were entertained with translating Japanese Proverbs into their English counterparts. Miss Katherine Henderson was awarded a gift for her sagacity in interpretation.

The dining room was transformed with lovely Japanese lanterns and exquisite, but simple, floral arrangements done by Mrs. Donald Spencer, Mrs. Russell Norris, Mrs. Joseph Helfrich, Mrs. Robert Dietrich, and Mrs. Elmer Morgan. An exceptionally beautiful "Tokonoma," or alcove of beauty built into all Japanese homes, was at one end of the dining room.

After an explanation of how to chopsticks, members thoroughly enjoyed a dinner of fish cakes, sukiyaki with rice, fruit cup, and special cakes baked by Mrs. James Francis. The Japanese cooks were Mrs. William J. Yeager and Mrs. Vance Weld, and waitresses who served copious quantities of green tea were Jean Steele, Doris Tillard, Ginny Scholes, Olive Phillips, Peggy Feed, Marian Gay, Elizabeth Bathurst, and Marna Rieder.

Costumes were to have been obtained from the Board of Foreign Missions, but Miss Anna Grandin, Mrs. Carlton Gay, Mrs. Russell Norris and Miss Florence Hill found an excellent assortment locally which transformed participating members into Oriental beauties.

Mrs. Proud led the group with the singing of "Three Little Girls from School." Patty Slick, Ronnie Morgan and Carol Kurz, sang charmingly with sweet young voices. Further dinner entertainment was the delightful "Japanese Sandman" and "Happy Talk," beautifully sung by Jo Barrett, Jan Mohney and Becky Powell. The classical highlight of the meal was the rendering of "Chopsticks" by Mrs. Ed Slick.

After a brief and well-conducted business meeting by Miss Mary Craft, devotions were led by Miss Camilla Henderson, assisted by Mrs. Folmer Yerg, Miss Florence Hill and Mrs. Clair Proud. Devotions centered around the Tokonoma and the qualities inherent in the pine, bamboo and plum.

Mrs. Alexander C. Flick's review of the book "Ten Against the Storm" was outstanding, from its tearful beginning to its poetic end. From her background of summer reading on Japan, Mrs. Flick presented a most comprehensible and interesting history of the country, weaving around this the stories of the ten outstanding Protestant missionaries of Japan. Her enlightened insight added immeasurably to the worth of the book, and members were enriched thereby.

After shuffling out of the dining room to put on one's shoes again and head for home, many were the thanks given to Mrs. Elmer Morgan, who did such an outstanding job as general chairman of the Japanese Festival and dinner.

Bert Leroy Jones will play an organ recital.

The Tiona church organ has just recently been paid for in full. Through a large gift of money from one of the members of the community, an organ fund was initiated; the Young Adult Fellowship, Ladies Aid, and MYF added to it with various projects; the balance was cared for through several individual gifts. The $1,300 Hammond organ has become a reality and all are invited to its dedication.

Lady Eagles Set Record Making Dressings

Nimble fingers work patiently and skillfully, as Lady Eagles spend their social hour performing a much-needed task, of benefit to the community. Properly garbed for the Sparky took their picture.

Despite the unfavorable weather, the third floor of the Eagles' Club was the scene of much activity Tuesday evening. When twenty-five members of the Ladies Eagles Auxiliary Conevango Aer. No. 313, spent two hours, following their meeting, making gauze cancer dressings for the Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society.

The evening's work resulted in 528 dressings, setting a record as being the largest attended and greatest number of dressings made at one time by anyone group. The latter part of the session, four husbands, not to be outdone by the women, lent their skill to the task and did all right, too.

The local Society expressed appreciation for this gift of service, since its supply of this particular dressing was entirely exhausted.

This latest project of the Auxiliary was in charge of Ruth Mickelsen, secretary, with the following women participating: Florence Greeley, Loretta Lindsey, Helen Warren, Elsie Key, Eleanor Strandberg, Janet Watt, Clara Sicksstrom, Minto Anderson, Alice Kiser, Beulah Dobson, Doris Hoffman, Imogene Hart, Verna Young, Margaret Young, Margaret Kusman, Caroline McKelvey, Leona Bailey, Louisa Bailey, Ruth M. ## Beaver Salesman Unable to Recall Events of Killing

BEAVER, Pa. (AP)—Arthur G. Schuck, 42-year-old Baden electrician accused of the ambush slaying of two Beaver County men, has testified he was discharged from the Army in 1943 and his papers said he had a "Mental condition."

Schuck followed his wife, Mary, and his mother, Mrs. Ida Mae Schuck, to the stand Thursday after the state had rested its case.

He testified he was so drunk he couldn't remember what happened April 27, the day William E. Engel, 44, of Ambridge, and Vincent J. Quigley, 34, of Economy, were shot to death near Quigley's home. Schuck is being tried for Quigley's slaying only.

When asked by defense Atty. A. G. Heibling if to the best of his knowledge he fired any shots that might have killed the men, Schuck answered: "I did not."

The state's theory is that Schuck was lying in wait to ambush Edward Ragozine and mistook his car. The Commonwealth charges that Schuck and Ragozine's wife, Rose, 48, carried on a romance.

Schuck denied making any threats on the Ragozine family, contradicting testimony given by Mrs. Ragozine Wednesday.

Types of Memberships Available Defined by Warren Players Club

With the announcement of Warren Players' schedule for the 1958-1959 season, much question has arisen among newcomers to the community as to whether or not one needs to be active to join.

Warren Players' has long operated on a dual type of membership. Many persons wish to take advantage of the opportunity to see four plays during the season without actually participating in their production. For these people, Warren Players' offers an Associate Membership, one which entitles the member to see all four plays and obtain the best seats on any night of their performance.

This convenience is offered so that the member can plan on the evening he wishes to attend a given play and can secure his reserved seat tickets well in advance. The cost of this membership is only $4.00, entitling the member to see four Broadway-quality shows for $1.00 a piece. Perhaps this is why the membership is billed as Warren's Biggest Entertainment Bargain.

Many persons in the community wish to assist in some form of active participation in the production of plays. Warren Players' stresses that no experience is necessary. Those who witnessed any of the four shows presented last year will well remember that some of the best performances were turned in by those with no stage experience whatsoever.

Not only acting, but all phases of production of plays are offered to those who wish to participate. Set design, lighting, makeup, directing, box office, lighting, and many other committees go into the successful production of a play; and for these persons who wish such active participation, an Active Membership is offered. Not only does it provide the member with the chance to see the four plays, but also it entitles the member to participate in all club activities.

Both memberships are offered at the same price. The choice as to which type lies with the member. He can be either an Active or an Associate Member.

With four plays guaranteed to please all and a chance to receive a bargain, Warren Players' seeks to add new as well as old members to their ranks this year. Membership applications have been sent out to many, a membership application appears in tonight's edition of the Warren Times-Mirror.

When five was made the usual play was for declarer to ruff the opening club lead, draw trumps with two leads and lead a spade to the ten.

Later on he would cash dummy's king of spades and note the fall of the eight from East. He would get back to his own hand and lead the jack of spades. West would cover with the queen and dummy would ruff. East would have to drop the nine and South's seven spot would be high.

At a couple of tables East was smart enough to realize that he had too much stuff in three suits and too little in hearts to afford to stay out of the bidding. He doubled for takeout at his first turn to bid.

South still went to four hearts, but now West was able to go to five diamonds.

One West got out for down one. He lost a diamond and a heart, but guessed the spade situation and lost only one trick there. The other West misguessed the spades and went down two tricks, but his minus score of 300 was still good for one point from top.

'My Life Is Over' Can Be Trumpet Call of Freedom

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The Dixon's two older children are married. This fall their youngest child left home to take up residence in his college's freshman dormitory.

Almost at once, black depression settled over his mother. Yesterday as she cleaned his room the hopelessness that has been bubbling just under the surface of her consciousness broke through so that she said aloud to herself, "Ted will never really live in this room again. I am an old woman. My life is over. From here on everything I do will be as meaningless as this keeping of a room for a child who no longer needs it."

Who is it whose life is over, Mrs. Dixon?

It is, I think, the life of a woman who has invested all her pride in her usefulness to other people.

Under these circumstances we are bound to feel depressed when the other people stop needing our usefulness.

The conventional advice to women in Mrs. Dixon's spot is "Get out of yourself. Find new interests. Do good works. Seek some activity that will restore your sense of usefulness to other people."

It is mistaken advice. Nine times out of 10 what we need is to learn to become useful to ourselves. Instead of trying to "get out" of ourselves, we need to try to get back into ourselves for a change.

For example, Mrs. Dixon's body is overweight and flabby. Though she's worked hard to give her children firm, muscular bodies, her own neglected one is subject to aches and pains whenever she puts any unusual exertion upon it. Her answer lies not in more of that usefulness to others that will restore her pride in it—but in a good swimming workout for herself three times a week at her local Y.

Unless pride in doing for children is balanced by pride in doing for ourselves, we are not living for today.

For when the children leave us, they leave nothing for the pride to feed on. We begin to feel Mrs. Dixon's sense of decay and blight. We think, "My life is over." But what is dying in us is not our life. It's that unbalanced pride of ours in usefulness to others.

Its death is making way for birth.

Good Toothbrush Stands Up and Fights Decay

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Did you know that brushing your teeth improperly can actually cause tooth decay?

The reason for this is that improper brushing lacerates the gums and causes them to shrink from the base of the teeth, thus allowing room for decay.

Brushing is of course, essential to healthy teeth and does prevent decay. But it's important to brush the right way and to use a brush which is not too hard or stiff.

The right way to brush, your dentist will tell you, is to brush only three or four teeth at one sweep. Your teeth are curved, not straight, and brushing them in one straight sweep across can contribute to corrosion of the enamel.

One scientifically designed brush now on the market has inner bristles that are thick and stiff and outer bristles that are softer and thinner. This is meant to provide exactly the right combination for doing an efficient job of brushing.

To get in between your teeth,

This girl uses a new toothbrush which combines soft and hard bristles for maximum brushing and cleaning efficiency.

make regular use of dental floss. It's a great router of decay and should be used at least once a day without fail.

WSCS GATHERING HAS INTERESTING SESSION

New officers were in charge of the first fall meeting of Grace Methodist WSCS, held in Fellowship Hall Tuesday. For the devotional period the "Lord's Prayer" was given in song and recitation, with Louella Hammerbeck as soloist, Helen Brydon giving the recitation and Judy Hammerbeck playing piano accompaniment. Reports given by various officers and committee chairmen indicated plans for a busy year as well underway.

Mrs. Brydon introduced the guest speaker, Miss Frances Fulton, missionary to Korea, who brought many interesting highlights on present mission work in Korea, including interesting facts concerning problems which confront young people of that country because of the greater freedom they now have in making their own choice in matters of dress, selection of school schedules, etc.

A reverent and inspirational pledge service was conducted by Mrs. Flora Haupt. Hostesses were members of Mary Harwood Circle, Miss Mabel Adams, chairman and Mrs. Hazel Dailymple, co-chairman.

sa but not the Quemoy and Matsu islands near the mainland. Dulles has said the islands by themselves are not worth going to war for.

But Chiang moved so many of his troops to Quemoy from Formosa that, if they were overwhelmed by the Red Chinese, not only would he suffer disaster but the American problem of holding Formosa would be complicated too.

Yet the United States didn't oppose his moving the troops to Quemoy. Now the United States is in the position of having to defend them.

President Eisenhower gave this as a reason for fighting for Quemoy. The Communists shouldn't be allowed to shoot their way into what they want. This, however, has not been a consistent American principle. For example, the United States let the Communists take half of Viet Nam—but not Korea—and it stood by helplessly when the Soviets crushed the Hungarian revolt.

So, unless there is war, the jockeying, maneuvering, gum-bating and shooting will probably continue for quite awhile without any real answers at all.

Presbyterian Women's Japanese Party

Members of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian church were greeted in true Japanese manner when they arrived for their Thursday evening meeting, the hostesses, Mrs. H. L. Banghart, Miss Mary Craft and Mrs. T. J. Crozier.

After removing their shoes, guests were entertained with translating Japanese Proverbs into their English counterparts. Miss Katherine Henderson was awarded a gift for her sagacity in interpretation.

The dining room was transformed with lovely Japanese lanterns and exquisite, but simple, floral arrangements done by Mrs. Donald Spencer, Mrs. Russell Norris, Mrs. Joseph Helfrich, Mrs. Robert Dietrich, and Mrs. Elmer Morgan. An exceptionally beautiful "Tokonoma," or alcove of beauty built into all Japanese homes, was at one end of the dining room.

After an explanation of how to chopsticks, members thoroughly enjoyed a dinner of fish cakes, sukiyaki with rice, fruit cup, and special cakes baked by Mrs. James Francis. The Japanese cooks were Mrs. William J. Yeager and Mrs. Vance Weld, and waitresses who served copious quantities of green tea were Jean Steele, Doris Tillard, Ginny Scholes, Olive Phillips, Peggy Peed, Marian Gay, Elizabeth Bathurst and Mina Rieder.

Costumes were to have been obtained from the Board of Foreign Missions, but Miss Anna Grandin, Mrs. Carlton Gay, Mrs. Russell Norris and Miss Florence Hill found an excellent assortment locally which transformed participating members into Oriental beauties.

Mrs. Proud led the group with the singing of "Fretes Jaquas," translated, "Three Little Girls from School." Patty Slick, Vonnie Morgan and Carol Kurz, sang charmingly with sweet young voices. Further dinner entertainment was the delightful "Japanese Sandman" and "Happy Talk," beautifully sung by Jo Barrett, Jan Mohney and Becky Powell. The classical highlight of the meal was the rendering of "Chopsticks" by Mrs. Ed Slick.

After a brief and well-conducted business meeting by Miss Mary Craft, devotions were led by Miss Camilla Henderson, assisted by Mrs. Folmer Yerg, Miss Florence Hill and Mrs. Clair Proud. Devotions centered around the Tokonoma and the qualities inherent in the pine, bamboo and plum.

Mrs. Alexander C. Flick's review of the book "Ten Against the Storm" was outstanding, from its tearful beginning to its poetic end. From her background of summer reading on Japan, Mrs. Flick presented a most comprehensive and interesting history of the country, weaving around this the stories of the ten outstanding Protestant missionaries of Japan. Her enlightened insight added immeasurably to the worth of the book, and members were enriched thereby.

After shuffling out of the dining room to put on one's shoes again and head for home, many were the thanks given to Mrs. Elmer Morgan, who did such an outstanding job as general chairman of the Japanese Festival and dinner.

Lady Eagles Set Record Making Dressings

Nimble fingers work patiently and skillfully, as Lady Eagles spend their social hour performing a much-needed task, of benefit to the community. Properly garbed for the Sparky took their picture.

Despite the unfavorable weather, the third floor of the Eagles' Club was the scene of much activity Tuesday evening, when twenty-five members of the Ladies Eagles Auxiliary Conewango Aer. No. 313, spent two hours, following their meeting, making gauze cancer dressings for the Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society.

The evening's work resulted in 528 dressings, setting a record as being the largest attended and greatest number of dressings made at one time by anyone group. The latter part of the session, four husbands, not to be outdone by the women, lent their skill to the task and did all right, too.

The local Society expressed appreciation for this gift of service, since its supply of this particular dressing was entirely exhausted.

This latest project of the Auxiliary was in charge of Ruth Mickelsen, secretary, with the following women participating: Florence Greeley, Loretta Lindsey, Helen Warren, Elsie Key, Eleanor Strandberg, Janet Watt, Clara Sickstrom, Minto Anderson, Alice Kiser, Beulah Dobson, Doris Hoffman, Imogene Hart, Verna Young, Margaret Young, Margaret Kusman, Caroline McKelvey, Leona Bailey, Louisa Bailey, Ruth M. ## Beaver Salesman Unable to Recall Events of Killing

BEAVER, Pa. (AP)—Arthur G. Schuck, 42-year-old Baden electrician accused of the ambush slaying of two Beaver County men, has testified he was discharged from the Army in 1947 and his papers said he had a "Mental condition."

Schuck followed his wife, Mary, and his mother, Mrs. Ida Mae Schuck, to the stand Thursday after the state had rested its case.

He testified he was so drunk he couldn't remember what happened April 27, the day William E. Engel, 44, of Ambridge, and Vincent J. Quigley, 34, of Economy, were shot to death near Quigley's home. Schuck is being tried for Quigley's slaying only.

When asked by defense Atty. A. G. Helbing if to the best of his knowledge he fired any shots that might have killed the men, Schuck answered: "I did not."

The state's theory is that Schuck was lying in wait to ambush Edward Ragozine and mistook his car. The Commonwealth charges that Schuck and Ragozine's wife, Rose, 48, carried on a romance.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The poems of William Blake, who was buried in a London pauper's grave in 1827, are still an inspiration to the world, and his vital drawings influence art.

Born in poverty, he was self taught as artist and writer. The Bible was a major source of his work, which strengthened through the years and culminated in masterpieces just before his death. Some of the books that he engraved, printed, decorated and bound have been called the most wonderful ever made by one hand.

His wife Catherine was his principal aid. He taught her to read and write, to copy his manuscripts and color his books. Often she held his hand as he wrote such lines as "I am in God's presence night and day,

"And He never turns his face away..."

Religion in the News

By JOHN MORGANTHAUER

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California will try again to settle a hot religious question at the polls this November. It'll be the second attempt in six years.

The question: Should parochial schools be exempt from property taxes?

In 1952 the voters said "Yes"—by a margin of less than 1 per cent.

This year the question is the same, but the setting is different. Nearly a million more voters have been added.

As in 1952, practically every politician—including the two candidates for governor—is on record for tax exemption. Any other position would alienate the Roman Catholic vote.

Opponents of tax exemption forced it to popular decision in 1952 after the Legislature approved the exemption 108-3. After the people narrowly approved it, opponents carried the fight to the U.S. Supreme Court but lost there also. Now they're trying again.

Opponents deny they are anti-Catholic. They say they oppose state subsidy of any sect.

"Shut flood gates to parochial school expansion at your expense," reads their argument in printed booklet distributed to all voters.

California has 1,076 elementary and high schools which would be affected. Of the total 643 are Catholic, 390 are Protestant, 4 are Jewish, and 39 are nonsectarian.

tant—statistically—than the nation as a whole.

There are 2,977,037 Catholics in the state, or about one out of every five persons. The national rate is more than one out of four.

How much in taxes is involved? State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood said it would have been less than 1 1/4 million dollars in 1956-57. And he said it would have cost the state 110 million dollars to educate the parochial pupils.

But opponents say the assessed value of private school property has grown from 14 million to 53 million dollars since 1953. They argue taxes should be paid on these properties just as on all other privately owned property.

Many Are Missing in Eastern Japan Typhoon

TOKYO (AP)—Twenty-four persons were reported dead, 42 missing and 108 injured as Typhoon Helen lashed Tokyo and eastern Japan this morning, sped out toward the Pacific Ocean, then headed back toward the northern Japanese island of Hokkaido with renewed fury. One American airman was among those reported missing.

The casualty list in Tokyo and eastern Japan came from national police headquarters, which also reported varying degrees of typhoon damage to 30,000 homes. More than 3,000 persons were made homeless by torrential rains and flooded rivers that accompanied Helen on its rampage through Tokyo and eastern Japan.

WOMAN KILLS SPOUSE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mrs. Winifred Chambers, 35-year-old mother of 8 children, shot and killed her husband early today at her home in nearby Braddock, homicide detectives reported. Police said Mrs. Chambers called them and said she had shot her husband. She told them she killed him after he had threatened to kill her with a knife. The woman was booked on a murder charge.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Los Angeles County formally opens William S. Hart Park Saturday, marking one of the few official recognitions of moviedom's glorious past.

And Two-Gun Bill had to assure his monument himself.

Despite the legend and color Hollywood has given the world, there are few things of permanence to mark the town's history. Now, 33 years after Bill Hart retired from the screen, his Newhall Ranch is being opened to the public as a haven for the lore of silent Westerns.

Here's what you'll see if you make the 25-mile journey from Hollywood to Newhall: the Spanish-style house Hart built in 1925-7 overlooking his 220 acres; Western paintings by Charles Russell and James Montgomery Flagg; Hart's 39-year-old mount, King Valentine; the actor's gun collection, makeup kit, etc.

Bill Hart was a sentimental man. Before he died at 81 in 1946, he said at his ranch: "To give this place to the public is the least I can request to show my appreciation for the support they gave me during my long movie career."

Now his wish is being carried out, though a couple of generations have grown up since he faded from the screen. The reason for the delay was a long and unsuccessful attempt by Hart's son to break the will that gave most of a $1,170,000 estate to the county for the park.

Although he is enshrined as one of the screen's top cowboys, his movie career extended only 11 years. Born in Newburgh, N.Y., he was reared in Wisconsin and Minnesota when remnants of the frontier still existed. Unaccountably, he became an actor and starred in Shakespeare and other classics.

He also did Western plays like "The Squaw Man" and "The Virginian" that led to his film debut as a cowboy in 1914. He started at $75 a week, once earned $2,225,000 for nine pictures in two years.

Though he remained a popular figure, the draw of his films declined after 1920. Theater men claimed his movies were old-fashioned, but Hart refused to take story liberties that he felt true Westerners would laugh at. His last film was "Tumbleweeds" in 1925. He sued United Artists on the claim that it wasn't properly exploited and collected $35,000 in 1936.

By that time, Hollywood had long passed him by. Hart lived out his years at the Newhall Ranch showing occasional visitors the trappings of his movie fame.

Highway Official Is Convicted of Cinders Charges

HARRISBURG (AP)—A former Chester County highways official has been convicted of conspiring to cheat the State Highways Department in cinder contracts.

A Dauphin County Court jury of seven men and five women deliberated for six and a half hours Thursday before returning a guilty verdict against Frank S. Jamieson, onetime highways maintenance superintendent.

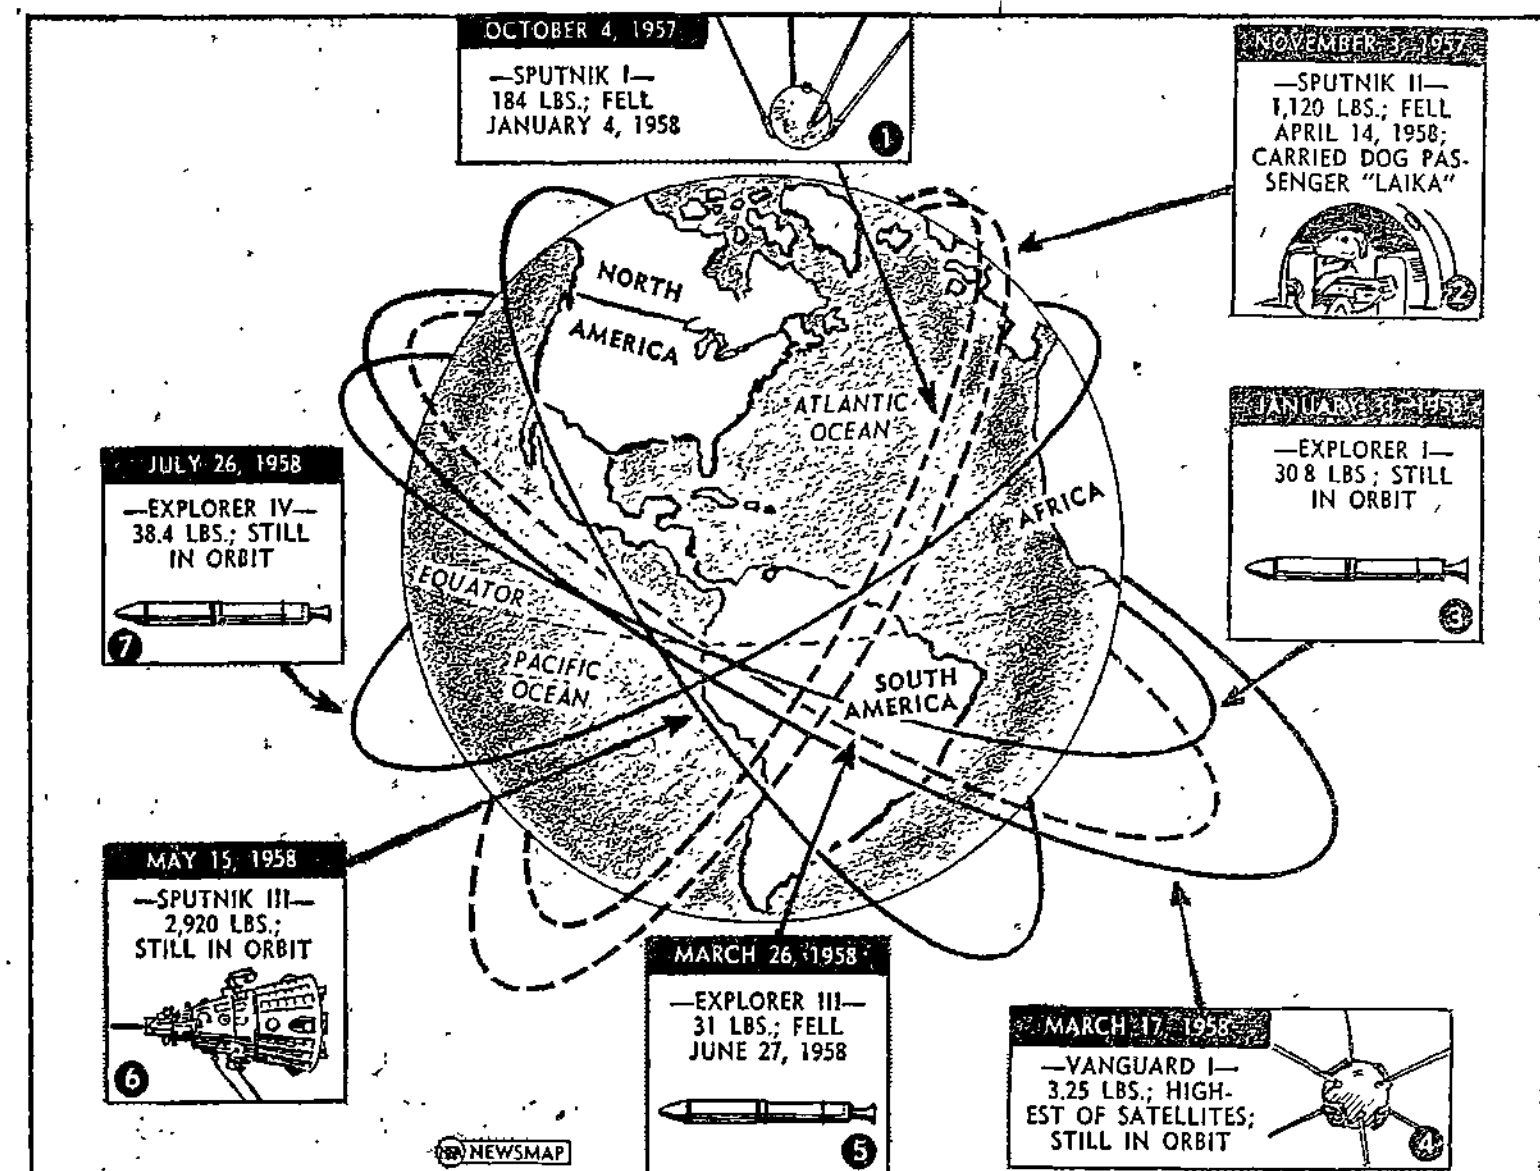

The verdict concluded six days of trial.

Jamieson was accused of joining in a conspiracy with Victor Preppackville contractor, to cheat the department on sale of cinders to use in Chester County.

Preppack pleaded guilty and testified on behalf of the Commonwealth. He has been convicted on similar charges in connection with cinder sales in York and Lancaster counties.

He is serving a one-year sentence in Dauphin County Prison on the York County conviction and awaiting sentence on the Lancaster conviction.

Astronomers have learned great deal about the moon since Galileo first studied it through a crude telescope in 1610.

THE SPACE AGE: YEAR ONE—The year beginning October 4, 1957 saw man's first, faltering—yet spectacular—steps into the vast space surrounding his planet. The orbiting of Russia's Sputnik I on that date ushered in the year of the satellites, launched in connection with the International Geophysical Year. The successful ones, three Russian and four American, are depicted chronologically on Newschart above. But alongside these successes are recorded the numerous failures: five Vanguard and two Explorers. Any Russian satellite that failed to reach orbit is shown in the West.

Besides the satellites, other developments included the discovery of an intense band of radiation above the Earth, currently being mapped by Explorer IV; the first American attempt at sending a rocket to the vicinity of the Moon in September; the Russian announcement that they had rocketed animals several hundred miles into space and returned them alive; and the successful launching of the British "Black Knight" rocket, putting that nation in a position to add its satellites to those of Russia and America. Space Age, Year One? Probably the first attempt to send a man into space.

Premium List for Livestock Show To Exceed $80,000

HARRISBURG — Nearly $80,000 in premiums will be offered during the free Pennsylvania National Livestock Exposition to be held at the State Farm Show Building, November 10 through 14, chairman William L. Medford, Chester, announced today.

More than half the premium money will be offered in the breeding cattle classes. Breeders of high quality pedigree animals will aim for a share of $41,260, an amount that should urge them to have their cattle look best to the judges, Medford said.

The next highest premium total will be offered to breeders of sheep. Cheviot, Columbia, Corriedale, Dorset, Hampshire, Merino, Oxford Shropshire, Southdown, Suffolk and Rambouillet breeders will divide a total of $10,309. The 1958 national show of the American Southdown Breeders Association will be held in conjunction with the Exposition.

Premiums in the swine breeding classes total $6,510. Breeds to be shown include Berkshire, Chester White, Duroc, Hampshire, Poland China, Spotted Poland China and Yorkshire. Market Barrow show premiums come to $5,352.

The popular fat steer shows will divide a purse of $7,132. Future Farmer and 4-H winners will be offered $3,505 and the open class feeders will divide $5,617.

The expanded carcass show this year will offer a total of $3,361 in three divisions. The carcass steer show will offer $1,190, carcass wether show $751, and carcass barrow show $1,120.

In the market lamb show the premium money will total $2,034.

Cowboys in the Tommy Steiner World Championship Rodeo, to be held November 11 through 15 in the large arena, will be trying for purses expected to exceed $15,000.

A free attraction offered this year at the exposition is the first Mid-Atlantic National Truck Show.

The premium total includes $50,000 appropriated by the Pennsylvania General Assembly, also special prizes, awards and trophies to be offered by individuals and breed associations.

Area Boys Win Awards At F.F.A. Dairy Show

According to an Associated Press to the Times-Mirror from Harrisburg today Irwin J. Crecraft, 15, of Centerville, RD 3, is the proud owner of the state FFA grand champion Brown Swiss dairy animal. John L. Wagner, 17, of Tionesta has the FFA reserve grand champion Brown Swiss.

The prize-winning animals were chosen from among 400 entries in all breeds at the third annual State Junior Dairy Show held at the Farm Show arena in Harrisburg yesterday.

Young Crecraft is a member of the Townville FFA chapter and Wagner belongs to the Tionesta FFA chapter.

The grand champion Brown Swiss is "Just-A-Mere Gettell's Ida," and the reserve champion is "Honey's Genesis Letta." The animals and their owners were pictured in The Herald on Sept. 9, after the yearlings won blue ribbons at the regional FFA competition held at the Crawford County Fairgrounds.

The 4-H grand champion Brown Swiss chosen yesterday is owned by Diane Lasko of Edinboro.

Episcopal Church Plans Gift for Tokyo University

The gift of a nuclear reactor from the Episcopal Church to St. Paul's University in Tokyo, is recommended to the Church's 59th General Convention by its Joint Commission on the Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy.

The General Convention of the Episcopal Church, which will meet in Miami Beach, Florida, October 5-17, will be asked to set aside $400,000 for the gift "in the name of the whole church."

The nuclear reactor is to be used by St. Paul's University for its research program for faculty and students in the fields of physics, chemistry and biology, according to the Commission's report to the General Convention.

The recommended gift reactor would be "equipped with facilities for producing radioactive isotopes for clinical use by St. Luke's Hospital," the report states.

St. Paul's University and St. Luke's Hospital, both in Tokyo, were founded by the Episcopal church and are maintained by the Nippon Sei Ko Kai, the Japanese branch of the Anglican Communion.

The Commission on Atomic Energy states that "any study and understanding of the peaceful uses of atomic energy would require a sharing of the potential and the realized blessings of atomic energy. The most meaningful sharing would be with those people who have known little of its blessings but much of its curse—those of the Far East."

According to the Commission, "the only institutions related to the Church in the Far East possessing trained personnel and able to develop and share the blessings of atomic energy are St. Paul's University and St. Luke's Hospital in Tokyo."

Postponement Probable In Pittsburgh Inquiry

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Asst. Dist. Atty. William C. Smith of Allegheny County says that because of a proposed federal grand jury probe next month into Pittsburgh racketeers his office is considering postponement of its own prosecutions.

Smith also said Thursday: "The proposed federal investigation will jeopardize the pending county cases against the numbers kingpins and will eliminate all future chances of making the racketeers implicate themselves into admissions of federal violations."

U. S. Atty. Hubert I. Teitelbaum ordered the probe Tuesday. He said he had "reliable information that high officials in the Pittsburgh police department have been taking payoffs for a long time."

Navy Building Poor Man's Pearl Harbor on Bataan

By JOHN GRIFFIN

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP)—On historic Bataan Peninsula, within easy reach of the China Coast, the U. S. Navy is building a poor man's Pearl Harbor.

The deep fingered natural harbor, cupped below green-jungled mountains, already holds the biggest naval complex in the Far East. It's still growing—and seems bound to become more important.

Subic Bay is just a bit more than a day's sailing time from the Formosa Strait for ships of the 7th Fleet, the American watchdog guarding the last home of Nationalist China. Jets poised on the line at the air station are only two to three hours from strategic targets on the Red China coast opposite Taiwan.

Rear Adm. R. T. S. Keith, the tall and frosty commander of the 56,000-acre reservation, sums up the importance of his domain curtly:

"It's just the biggest support and best training facility we have out in this part of the world."

Subic Bay has several other distinctions—it has the only foreign city located on a U. S. base, pythons and Negrito pygmies, and an 80-million-dollar airfield dubbed "Radford's Folly."

Ships of the 7th Fleet use Subic as their filling station.

Floating drydocks hold anything up to cruisers. A huge network of buried oil tanks runs back into the jungle. And, off by itself, a 12,000-acre ammunition magazine holds many of America's latest weapons.

"You ask if we have missiles and nuclear weapons up here," says one Navy officer. "I say I can't tell you. But isn't it a logical place?"

Vital as it now is, Subic may have bigger days in the future when the Navy will have to pull out of its big base at Yokosuka, Japan. It is safer than typhoon-prone Okinawa, closer to possible trouble than mid-Pacific Guam, and less likely to be caught up in regional conflict than Taiwan.

In addition, Subic Bay is in the Philippines, the friendliest nation in Asia toward the United States.

To help keep these relations friendly, the Navy is preparing to give the Philippines the city of Olongapo.

This community of some 70,000 Filipino citizens just sort of happened to grow up on the base over the years. Officials say it's unique among base problems around the world.

A Navy officer, a specialist in civil government, is "mayor" of the city. He is advised by nine elected Filipino town councilors. But the final say on everything lies with the navy.

Right now the Navy is busy straightening boundaries and making plans for water and electric facilities before turning back the city sometime next year.

But if the city is going, the base itself is still growing. Some 122 million dollars has been spent on fleet facilities and plans run to another 43 million.

The 30-million-dollar Cubi Point Air Station is the biggest job ever attempted by the Navy's famed Seabees. It got the name "Radford's Folly" for two reasons: People said it couldn't be done and said that even if it could, it wasn't practical.

Adm. Arthur Radford, then chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and the prime mover in the project, proved the first wrong.

When civilian contractors turned down the job the Seabees took over. It took three and a half years, but they moved a whole mountain—pushing it into the bay and leveling it off into an 8,000-foot airstrip that juts out like the deck of an aircraft carrier.

EDUCATION MEETING

HARRISBURG (AP)—Some 200 delegates of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn. came to Harrisburg today for workshop sessions on public relations.

The two-day meeting will feature discussions of the classroom as a public relations media and new techniques in the field of education public relations.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Those fuzzy, bulky-looking woollens that you'll be fingering and trying on as you shop for your fall wardrobe offer a surprise: they're lightweight.

There are more of them than ever before this fall, many of them blends of wool-and-nylon.

The new patterns turn up lacy, porous tweeds with a bulky look; bold, plaids with a three-dimensional depth; Scottish tweeds in muted pastel heather tones; and the new mohairs with a boucle finish which gives them a fuzzy, loopy look.

There's one other thing about these new bulky-looking woollens that's important to remember: their color. Don't be startled when you see yellow the color of autumn afternoon sunshine.

olive greens, brilliant reds and that dazzling fall color, violet. There's nothing shy about color this fall and there's no lack of either pastel or vivid tones. But pastel doesn't mean baby pink; it means a whole razzle-dazzle rainbow of color that dances. These fabrics are cut into day-time dresses, suits with little cropped jackets, coats and ensembles and two-pieces. Blends of wool-and-mohair even turn up in knitted fashions, where they lend a dimly fuzzy look to otherwise sleek lines.

Pennsylvania Outdoors...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

The Walton Program

The Isaac Walton League of America recently broadcast a brochure titled "Hunt America Time." Frank Gregg, executive director of the League, emphasized these important and related aspects of the program:

1. It deals with a season when some 12 million Americans go afield to enjoy their heritage of public hunting. 2. It is an outdoor education program conceived and sponsored by the League to perpetuate that heritage by raising the standard of hunter conduct afield, and reversing the trend toward loss of public hunting opportunities brought about by unsportsmanlike conduct. It contains a pledge offered to American hunters. By signing the Hunt America Pledge hunters agree

a. To be law abiding.
b. To respect the rights and property of others.
c. To be careful with fire and firearms.

"Because hundreds of thousands of young people hunt for the first time each year, and because raising the standards of sportsmanship by adult hunters requires continuous effort, Hunt America time will be an annual program," Gregg says.

Mourning Doves

Sportsmen who have hunted mourning doves in Pennsylvania since the current season opened, September 1, report the birds at least as numerous as in 1957, when they were more plentiful than for some years previous. Compared to the numbers who gun for small game in the Commonwealth there are not many dove hunters, but some sportsmen who enjoy wing shooting try for the birds in likely locations at every opportunity. In the southern counties the weather has been satisfactory since the opening of the dove season, but in some of the northern counties the shooting and the take have been drastically curtailed by rainy weather. Out in the open the birds provide fast, deceptive targets as they dip and roll in flight. Flying apparently as fast as possible they forge ahead with a dazzling burst of speed when they hear the blast of a shotgun. The hunter who fails to shoot well ahead of the doves, or to anticipate their possible flight direction, may end his hunt with a light or empty bag. But he will express admiration for the swift unpredictable targets while he counts the spent shells with which he supply "punched holes in the atmosphere" behind, under or any place around where he thought the bird would be when the fine shot arrived.

Nightmare For Deer

Last year 160 deer were killed by vehicles on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. An official of the Highway Department advised M. J. Golden, executive director of the Game Commission, that this record was compiled from reports submitted by employees of the toll road.

Deer Proof Fencing

Not more than $10,000 may annually be expended from the Game Fund for deer proof fencing, Pennsylvania law decrees. Already this year $9,999—48 worth, or 7,440 rods of the 8-foot fencing, plus 558 pounds of staples with which to fasten it to posts, have been allotted to farmers, nurserymen and orchardists to prevent further deer damage. The fund for this year is therefore exhausted.

Weather Extremes

When in a violent mood nature may increase the mortality of birds and animals in the wild. Weather extremes sometimes reduce the survival of pen-reared game birds also.

The latter case was demonstrated in the Sharon-Greenville area this summer, when torrential rains developed floods that caused severe losses of day-old pheasant chicks supplied from State Game Farms. Of the 500 ringneck chicks one sportsman's club was rearing, 173 drowned.

Water in the brooder house reached a depth of 15 inches. In a flash flood during the same storm period a northwestern Pennsylvania farmer lost 137 of the 500-day-old chicks he was raising. A nearby farmer lost about 100 of his 500 pheasant chicks when nature rampaged this summer.

HOSPITAL EMERGENCIES

Treated at Warren General Hospital Thursday for chun and foot difficulties were: Jack McMillen, RD 1, Warren, left foot puncture wound; Loretta Steele, 21 Glade avenue, left 5th toe fracture; Doris Sager, 96 Dartmouth street, right ankle sprain; Diane Ponick, 226 Main street, chun cut; Jane Conroy, 130 N. South street, chun cut.

You can "cream" fat and sugar for cakes or cookies two ways: by working the mixture around the sides of a bowl with a wooden spoon or by beating it with an electric mixer.

Caution Issued By Department On Cider Making

Harrisburg—With the apple cider squeezing season approaching the State Department of Agriculture cautions prospective producers that they must comply with State food and sanitary container laws.

Investigations by agents of the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry of the State Department of Agriculture last year showed that many violations of the laws were occurring.

Under the State general food law and the sanitary container law producers of cider must meet rigid specifications.

According to Delmar K. Myers, acting director of the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry, violations usually come under one or all of three counts—the sanitizing of containers, improper labeling of the receptacles and failure to declare the presence of the preservative sodium benzoate, if used in cider.

Myers said that most of the violations are for unsanitary bottles and jugs. He warned that many producers must clean these containers properly.

The law requires the name and address of the producer on each label, the name of the product and the net contents. Producers may not add more than one ounce of sodium benzoate to every eight gallons of cider. If added, notation of the addition of the preservative must be made on the label.

Violators are subject to maximum fines of $1,000 for a third offense. First offense fines are a minimum of $60 and a maximum of $100.

With more cider available as the season gets into full swing, agents of the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry will be alerted to take more samples of cider to be analyzed than in past years "to protect the health of the people drinking cider," Myers declared.

Snakes Greatest Menace to Yanks On Formosa Base

AN AIR BASE, Central Formosa (AP)—The most immediate danger American airmen face when they move into this Nationalist Chinese base is not Communists. It's snakes.

Coral snakes, kraits, cobras, and a variety of the Chinese call eye-glance snakes all thrive in the thick grass around runways, near living areas, and in nearby cane fields.

So far no one has been bitten. But a deadly coral snake 5 feet 2 inches long was killed last week near the mess hall. A jeepload of airmen ran over a cobra on a roadway.

The snakes are rated as 5-stoppers, 10-stoppers, 50- and 100-stoppers. The classification indicates the number of steps a person can take after being bitten before dropping dead.

Business Outlook Most Promising Report Reveals

WASHINGTON (AP)—With things looking up in the steel, auto and textile industries, the economic recovery promises to keep going into next year.

That's a summary of the views given to Secretary of Commerce Weeks Thursday by his Business Advisory Council.

The council, comprised of top executives of about 100 of the nation's biggest firms, met with Weeks Thursday behind closed doors.

Afterward, Weeks said the industrialists were "very confident that business will go on improving throughout the fall and into next year."

The secretary gave this rundown on conditions in the steel, auto and textile industries, all of which were hurting during the recession:

Steel—As steel-using industries move to build up depleted stocks, increased production rate expected to continue.

Auto—Apparent end of industry-wide strike threat sparks hopes for unimpeded economic recovery. Big orders for steel and other materials for 1959 models counted on to boost output. Auto industry spokesmen on BAC expect improved car-selling year ahead.

Textiles—Representatives on BAC report better-than-anticipated third quarter business in this industry.

Steelworkers Turn To Contract Discussions

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The United Steelworkers turned attention today to 1959 contract negotiations after methodically stamping out the fire of an insurgent group and recommending its expulsion.

A resolution calling leaders of the Dues Protest Committee dual unionists and traitors to the labor movement passed Thursday on the fourth day of the union's ninth constitutional convention. There were two negative votes.

The resolution called on USW locals that have Protest Committee members in their ranks to "take prompt and vigorous action to eliminate those guilty of these serious constitutional violations."

Bob Hope Celebrating 25 Years of Stardom

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bob Hope tonight celebrates 25 years of stardom with "Roberta," the television debut of the Broadway hit that made him a name overnight.

Hope will re-create his role of Huckleberry Haines, the band-leading pal of the All America football star who inherits a Paris fashion house. Howard Keel, Anna Maria Alberghetti and Janis Paige costar with Hope in the NBC showing.

First Test

This yearlong moratorium could lead to an indefinite halt. The program is being informally called "Operation Deadline."

In this series, the AEC is seeking to develop small defensive weapons to round out the nation's atomic power.

Devices to be tested will range up to 20 kilotons. This is considered small by current standards, but in World War II it took just one 20-kiloton bomb to destroy a Japanese city.

Four of the tests will be fired from balloons and low fliers. The remaining six will be in tunnels deep in a mountain.

The 20-kiloton weapon will be detonated underground.

The AEC found out in 1957 with its first tunnel experiment that subterranean testing does away with a lot of problems and produces the same scientific results. Off-site radioactive fallout and blast and flash effects are eliminated.

In addition to testing the effectiveness of weapons, the series will involve experiments on the protection of people from atomic attack.

On one of the later balloon shots, 500 pigs will be placed in trenches, pill boxes and fox holes at various distances from the blast site.

Warming Trend Over Weekend Forecast

By Associated Press

Extended forecast for Saturday, September 20, through Wednesday, September 24:

Western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia: Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees above normal, warming trend over the weekend, cooler Tuesday or Wednesday. Showers Tuesday or Wednesday may average 1/4 of an inch.

Living Costs

21 times in the past 24 months. This was a rise of about 6 percent in general living costs in two years.

There is no sizable group of workers whose pay rates require adjustment because of labor contracts geared to the August index.

The Labor Department reported that spendable earnings of factory workers rose slightly between July and August.

A worker with three dependants averaged $75.90 a week after tax deductions. The single worker averaged $68.43.

These earning figures are somewhat higher than a year ago but represent reduced buying power because of living cost increases since then.

The food price decline in August was fairly general. Prices for meats, fruit and vegetables were all lower. Prices for eggs, milk and restaurant meals rose somewhat.

Transportation, housing, medical care and recreation costs were all higher.

Vice Consul

About the same time a British airman was slightly wounded by a gunman a couple of blocks away and two Turkish Cypriot policemen also were wounded.

British authorities quickly imposed a general overnight curfew and an indefinite house curfew for all Greek Cypriot men between 15 and 25.

There was speculation that Wentworth had been mistaken for a British citizen, the main target of Greek Cypriot terrorists trying to win freedom for this British crown colony to join Greece.

A native of Worcester, Mass., Wentworth was graduated from the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland. He was a Navy officer and an electronics engineer before joining the consular service in 1955. He served as a vice consul in Medellin, Colombia, before coming here.

Ford Settlement

With the Ford agreement in hand, the union now has a lever to exert pressure on either company. Both Woodcock and Fraser have said they hope to improve on the three-year Ford pact.

Offers reportedly similar to the one Ford first made the UAW Monday still are on the table at the other two auto companies.

The Ford settlement gave the UAW pay boosts, increased pensions, severance pay, cost-of-living and improvement factor allowances, compensation for those on short work weeks and extended supplemental unemployment pay.

Hails O'Neill Play

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Stockholm newspapers today hailed the play "Hugnie" by the late American dramatist Eugene O'Neill as one of his best.

The world premiere of the one-act play was given at the Royal Dramatic Theater Thursday night. King Gustav VI Adolf of Sweden; Queen Louise; and Prince Wilhelm, brother of the King, attended.

Command On Formosa

Army forces assigned to Formosa; Brig. Gen. Fred Den, commander of the U.S. Air Task Force, is designated commander of all Air Force units; and Rear Adm. Paul Blackburn, commander of the Formosa Strait Patrol, is designated commander of U.S. Navy units.

Smoot, the announcement said, will have under his direct operational control those forces necessary to discharge his mission of on-the-spot coordination of all U.S. operations in the Formosa area.

Reorganization of the U.S. Formosa command was announced as the Army assigned a Nike-Hercules missile battalion to the defense of the Nationalist stronghold.

The U. S. Taiwan Formosa Defense Command announced today an advance party of the 71st Artillery Regiment's 2nd Missile Battalion had arrived from Ft. Bliss, Tex., and missile launching sites are being built.

The Nike-Hercules can knock down enemy aircraft more than 75 miles away. It can carry either a conventional or an atomic warhead.

The Defense Department in Washington said Monday the battalion was going to the Pacific but refused to confirm reports that it would come to Formosa.

A Nike-Hercules battalion consists of 700 to 800 men manning 48 missile launchers. This type of supersonic missile is in defense around New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and the Washington-Baltimore area.

Matador guided missiles have been in operation on Formosa since late last year. U. S. jet fighters also are on Formosa, and the 7th Fleet carries its own anti-aircraft missiles and fighters.

The Nationalists got three more LSTs through Communist shell-fire to Quemoy, the Defense Ministry said. The ships unloaded supplies and withdrew without damage.

This brought to nine the number of LSTs reported to have delivered cargoes to Quemoy since U.S. advisers showed the Nationalist new techniques.

Nationalist China gave credit to better US-trained pilots and superior American planes for the victories it claimed in dog-fights with the Communists Thursday.

The Defense Ministry said eight of its planes tangled with 30 Communist MIGs near the offshore Quemoy islands and downed five of them without a Nationalist loss. Nationalist planes also sank three Communist torpedo boats and damaged another, the ministry claimed.

The ministry spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Hsi-tu, was asked at a news conference how outnumbered Nationalist jet pilots could score such one-sided victories.

"It must be because of much better morale, experience and training of our pilots," Liu replied. "I think also that American equipment inside the plane is superior, as you all know from the Korean War."

Liu apparently referred to radar and electronic gunnery equipment in F86 Sabre Jets and F84 Thunderjets supplied to the Nationalists by the United States. The basic planes themselves are older models than the Communist MIGs.

Nationalist pilots are now training in newer supersonic F100 Super Sabres.

Plans Investigation Of NAACP Activities

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said Thursday he will launch an investigation into NAACP activities in Arkansas within six weeks.

Bennett said a visiting Britisher that he believed the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was "riddled with Communists."

The attorney general, an outspoken foe of the Negro organization, discussed his plans with Sir Lynn Ungood-Thomas of London, who is visiting Little Rock on a study of racial troubles.

Bennett charged that Little Rock's integration turmoil resulted from NAACP activities in the city over a period of several years.

Former Senator Yosko Dies at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Democrat Joseph J. Yosko, 54-year-old Pennsylvania state senator who enjoyed political warfare more than anything else in life, died suddenly today in a sea-shore home.

Yosko, stricken with a malignant brain tumor for which he underwent surgery last Feb. 13, came to Atlantic City with his wife, Gertrude, in May to convalesce and get the maximum amount of rest.

Last week the Yoskos moved into an efficiency apartment, but apparently when the senator's condition worsened he was taken to the Golden Crest Nursing Home where he died this morning.

Yosko, a militant, blunt-speaking politician who practiced law in the steel city of Bethlehem, was elected to Pennsylvania's State Senate by Northampton County voters in November, 1948, to fill the unexpired term of Carleton Woodring, who had resigned to become a judge.

Republican Campaigners

Nixon has agreed thus far to make four speeches in California, where the outcome of the Knowland and Knight races may have a direct bearing on the vice president's expected bid for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Even in California, however, Nixon thus far has ruled out whistle stopping. Instead he will speak at party fund-raising dinners in San Diego Oct. 1, in Oakland the following day, in San Francisco Oct. 14 and in Los Angeles the next day.

Nixon will start his campaign with an appearance in Indianapolis Sept. 29. He is billed to appear at fund-raising dinners in Philadelphia Oct. 8 and Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 28. He also will be principal speaker at the Republican State Convention in Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 9.

Urgent requests for Nixon's help are said to have come from GOP senatorial candidates in Arizona, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Dragons at Full Strength for Game With Franklin

Blue & White Reported in Good Condition for Battle

Section II battles are in their second week tonight.

One of the biggest games on tap throughout the state, according to Associated Press, is the Warren-Franklin encounter on Memorial Field tomorrow at 1:30.

Dragons will be at full strength after beating Corry last weekend. Franklin won over Hickory in a non-league game.

Threat of flu and continuous rains prevented much heavy drilling and practice throughout the Section. Dragon Mentor Ralph Veights has had a couple light drills, working on backfield and speed.

"Franklin can't be taken too lightly," Veights warns. "They have fine backs and two good ends. We'll have to stop their passing." Ralph plans a running attack.

Big things are expected of Warren's backfield, Lou Mascara, Dick Terry and Bob Haslet. Knight coach Jim McCullough said Warren has a strong offensive backfield, "backed by Mascara, of course."

Same players will start for Warren as last week.

Oil City will be gunning for a win over Corry tonight in the only other Section II League game. Titusville plays a non-leaguer with Grove City, who has 16 lettermen. Both teams lost their contests last week. Rockets dropping one to Oil City, Grove City bowing to Beaver. In 11 tries, Titusville has won only one over Grove City—and that was back 51 years ago in 1907!

Meadville will host Neshannock Twp. in an independent.

Rival Game Saturday at Sheffield Excites Interest

Second week of football for most area schools will open tonight and Saturday, both independent and league encounters.

One of the biggest rival games slated is Northern Area Knights at Sheffield Saturday at 1:30. Sheffield will be minus star center Denny Danielson, suffering from a leg infection. Coach Lou DeRubies expects to have Denny in the next game. His position will be taken over by sophomore Denny Anderson.

Northern Area, still a young and inexperienced club, is opening their 1958 season with this contest. Marvin Work and Fred Brasington, Knight ends, are out of action with ankle injuries. Coach Norge Lavison reports he has a slight problem with a light line. Last year, Sheffield won at Northern Area, 26-13. Wolverines romped over Warren Jayvees last Friday.

Youngsville Eagles invaded another Class B team, Saegertown, tonight at 8:15. The County eleven will be up against a squad of eight lettermen. Saegertown coach Merle Darkangelo, gives benefit of doubt in tonight's game to Youngsville with their "size and past record." "They outweigh us by at least 15 to 20 pounds."

Fullback Joe Inter will see limited action for Youngsville. Left end Frank Lysasz will be out with a knee injury, replaced by George Loomis. Saegertown's strength lies in a tremendous line and a good running backfield.

Darkangelo said Youngsville will be tougher than Mercer, who lost to Saegertown last week. "We like to play tough competition," he said.

Lawrence Park, 1957 Erie County champs, are again pre-season choice to win the title. They get into Erie County Football League action this afternoon for the first time. Girard of Yellow Jackets will travel to the Parkers' field. Other loop action in Erie, finds Westleyville hosting Union City and Ft. LeBoeuf at Union City under the lights. Edinboro travels to North East.

Other grid games of local interest:

Kane Wolves, bolstered by news that three injured lettermen will be able to play tonight, made final preparations for a giant-sized job—job of beating St. Mary's Public. Game time is 8:00 tonight after Kane fought to a 7-7 deadlock with Ridgway last weekend.

St. Mary's will enter the contest with a 22-game winning streak. Rain hampered any efforts for the Wolves to drill having only one light session Monday night. The three injured lettermen who will be back in action are halfback Jim Kibbie, tackle Bob Peterson and end Gary Meckley. It is reported that players and coaches are confident that they can stop St. Mary's. This is a big game on Kane's schedule. Coach Bob Robinson said, "It would be a real sweet one to win."

Ridgway Elfers host Emporium tonight. Johnsonburg is idle this weekend. Veteran tackle, Dick Delhanty, Ridgway, came out of the Kane game with an injured arm. He won't play tonight. Same lineup tonight as with Kane, except for Delhanty.

A new era in Erie scholastic football begins this evening as two games usher in the first season of the new Big Seven Conference.

Harborcreek will battle Tech while McDowell will host East on McDowell field. Tech and East are regarded as slight favorites.

Bradford will be at Hornell.

Sportsmen Claim Politics in Fish License Setup

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's organized sportsmen charged today that fish license agents have been pressured to contribute to the Nov. 4 election campaign or risk losing their license franchise.

The allegation was contained in a report by a special committee of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, which came to Harrisburg for its annual fall meeting.

"This is something that has been going on for a long time and we have been working to pinpoint specific cases in order to take action," said Charles H. Neff, Allentown, secretary of the federation.

Neff said the special committee, headed by George E. Krause, of Altoona, and Merrill C. Menits, of Petersburg, has reports of political pressure being exerted on fish license agents in Blair, Cambria and Chester counties.

The issue first came up at the organization's annual spring meeting, when the special committee was named to look into the charges.

Fish licenses are sold generally in sporting goods shops and hardware stores. Although the profit in handling licenses is small, store managers consider them a valuable asset for attracting customers.

Neff said he had been told that Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride had been alerted to the possibility of pressure contributions and had sent an investigator to Cambria County to look into charges there. Neff said he had received no report of the investigation himself.

"We consider this one of the gravest problems facing the federation," Neff stated.

He said that during the two-day meeting ending Friday, the organization would also study the need for revamping the state's motor boat laws with an eye to water safety.

"The present set of laws we feel is not too realistic," Neff said.

Looks Like Rush Will Have Chance To Get in Series

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

After 11 years in the majors, Bob Rush finally is going to get a chance to pitch in a World Series. And it looks like the big right-hander has ideas of being the Milwaukee Braves' No. 3 starter against the New York Yankees.

Rush, 32, who spent his first 10 seasons with the Chicago Cubs did the pitching Thursday night as the Braves whipped St. Louis 9-3 and reduced their magic number to two in the only National League game scheduled.

He wasn't particularly neat about it, giving up 11 hits, but he didn't walk a man while winning his third in a row. It was only his fifth complete game of the season, but his second in his last three starts. His record is 10-6.

The Braves, who could clinch tonight with a victory should second place Pittsburgh lose to Philadelphia, beat the Cards with four runs in the fourth against Sam Jones (13-12). Red Schoendienst, who was 4-for-5, started it with one of his three doubles. Hank Aaron brought him home with a single. Wes Covington singled and Frank Torre then brought the Braves from behind with a two-run, two-out triple. Johnny Logan singled home the clincher.

Bernie Gluckman, Akins' co-manager and onetime manager of Flanagan, after Thursday night's bout.

"He won the fight, all right," Gluckman said. "And he did another thing. He's never going to fight us with the title on the line. How do you fight a man like that? He was holding Akins all night."

Whatever happened, Akins was scarcely in the fight, a non-battle 10-round. Flanagan's speed and neat combination punching won him a wide early margin. Akins, apparently protecting bruises above his eyes inflicted last month by Tomstone Smith, didn't start swinging his good wallop until

Pitt Team Compelled To Make Emergency Stop

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A four-engine airliner carrying Pitt's 41-man football squad made an emergency landing here Thursday after developing engine trouble.

An airline spokesman said the plane could have made it to Los Angeles but regulations require planes developing engine trouble to land at the nearest airport.

The pilot, Capt. O. Lindsly said "piston or cylinder" trouble caused one engine to vibrate abnormally. The inside right engine was turned off but the flight continued for an hour and a half before landing.

Another plane was dispatched from Los Angeles to pick up the squad.

Penn State Off For Opener With Nebraska Univ.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Penn State left today for its opening game with Nebraska at Lincoln and a test of Coach Rip Engle's wholesale lineup changes in preseason practice.

The Nittany Lions, knee-deep in quarterbacks and returning lettermen, are favorites in Saturday's contest. They have won four of the five previous meetings, the last in 1952. State was 6-3 last season; Nebraska won only one of 10 games.

Engle expressed concern at the prospect of meeting the Big Seven school but appeared more worried about the weather than his opponents.

The weather in this central Pennsylvania city has been generally cool the past few weeks while it has been hot and humid in Lincoln.

"I'm afraid our kids may run out of gas midway through the game," Engle said.

He said he expected to find Nebraska "physically strong, young and fast," although inexperienced. In anticipation of an aerial assault, he stressed pass-defense in practice this week.

Traveling with the 36-man squad will be five quarterbacks, including two (Don Jonas and Dick Hoak) who have been converted to halfbacks to fill weak spots.

Al Jacks will start at quarter with Richie Lucas behind him in Engle's two-platoon system. Bob Scrabis is last in Engle's three-deep lineup. They compiled 1,187 yards passing last season.

Pep Meeting Bassey In Boston Saturday

BOSTON (AP)—Featherweight champion Hogan Bassey of Nigeria and former two-time king Willie Pep, both razor sharp after three weeks of intensive training, marked time today for their 10-round non-title bout Saturday night at the Boston Garden.

Bassey planned loosening up exercises while Pep intended to do nothing more strenuous than take a walk.

Pep, at the crossroads of an amazing 18-year ring career, observed his 36th birthday today.

Ingemar May Get Chance at Patterson; Three Years Ago Just Wanted to Work Out

By JIMMY BRESLIN
need to go into D'Amato's view on the subject for they are the same objections he has made to practically everything in boxing.

Now, it seems, he is attempting to find intrigue in a smog gasbord.

Elsewhere, Johansson's thought of differently.

"I saw him," Editor Nat Fleischer of Ring Magazine recollected, "in 1955—the same year he was over here. He boxed Gunther Nurenberg at Dortmund, Germany. Knocked him out in seven rounds and felt he would make a fine challenger with another year's experience. He's had three years now."

"He is the only logical opponent at the time for a big outdoor heavyweight championship match."

"Johansson doesn't move cleverly. He's strictly a puncher. He can hit. There is no question about that. Every recent challenger we've had were forced to make excuses for Johansson needs none. He comes in with an imposing record."

Nick Florio was encountered at Stillman's.

"You should have," he was told, "tried to talk that guy in to staying here."

"Yeah," Nick grumbled. "You could pay the rent with the guy."

Ingemar Johansson

Ingemar Johansson was dismissed with a casual look. The look was with raised eyebrows, of course, for managers in this country are not in the habit of seeing their charges 3,000 miles to learn how to fight.

The next time Johansson will be viewed—if there is any common sense remaining in the fight game—it will cost ring-siders about $40 for a close-up.

Courtesy of that one round knockout over Eddie Machen, Johansson has set up what should be one of the biggest fights since Rocky Marciano knocked out Archie Moore. His opponent, of course, would be Floyd Patterson.

The "feel" of a big match can be found everywhere. Everywhere, that is, except Constantine (Cus) D'Amato's office-apartment on Broadway. It has been said that Cus' idea of a perfect match is to have Patterson battle the reflection of himself in a mirror for $500,000.

Rather than accept Johansson as a prime money-making vehicle, Cus promptly began to question Manager Ahlquist's connection with the International Boxing Club. There is no

Veteran Driver Wins 'Little Brown Jug' Race

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

DELAWARE, Ohio. (AP) You'd think a trainer-driver who has won more than $2,000,000 purses in the last six years could pretty well figure when he has chance to win a horse race.

But 41-year-old Joe O'Brien who has piled up that big pay was fooled Thursday. He won't win $65,252 Little Brown Jug for three-year-old pacers with the California comet, Shadow Wave, after deciding he couldn't do it.

But Shadow Wave, stout-hearted chestnut son of Adios, did it with a pair of 2:01 winning heats over Delaware County Fairground half mile track, picking up $38,541 payoff.

O'Brien hadn't started Shadow Wave, owned by the S. A. Czar Farms of Shafter, Calif., since Sept. 4 at Indianapolis, and figured the rest had benefited his speedster.

New York's East Side Crown To Be At Stake Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—The "championship" of New York's East Side will be at stake again tonight when "defending champion" Johnny Busso meets Carlos Ortiz in a return television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Ortiz is an 8-5 favorite.

To an outsider the neighborhood crown might not mean a thing, but to lightweights Busso, 25, and Ortiz, 22, it's the next best prize to a world title. This holds despite the fact they are high ranking contenders for Joe Brown's championship.

Oddly enough neither lives in the old neighborhood in the East 20's any more.

Win Over Champ Raises Prospects For Del Flanagan

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A victory over welterweight champ Virgil Akins sent the up-and-down career of Del Flanagan soaring to a new summit today.

But as far as Akins' camp is concerned the fancy-footed St. Paul Irishman may as well enjoy the view — he's not getting a title shot as long as Akins holds the crown.

Williams Still Has Chance To Win League Batting Title

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way things are going, Ted Williams might finish with his worst batting average ever for a full season in the majors — and still win the American League batting title.

He never has batted worse than .318 for a full season with the Boston Red Sox. That was in 1951. Now, at 40 and battling for his sixth crown, he's batting .318 and is just .001 behind teammate Pete Runnels, who leads the league.

Runnels lost three points to .319 with an 9-for-4 day as the Red Sox slipped to fifth with a 4-1 loss at Kansas City Thursday. Williams had a double in three at-bats, staying put in the averages. The A's Bob Cerv had one hit, his 37th homer, in three trips and remained at .315, tied for third with the Vic Power of Cleveland and Harvey Kuenn of Detroit.

The Chicago White Sox defeated Baltimore 6-3 in the only other AL game scheduled Thursday.

Williams, who has batted .345 (10-for-29) since returning from a bout with a virus, won the 1957 title with a .388 mark. His other championship averages were .406 (1941), .369 (1948), .356 (1942) and .343 (1947).

Five-Star Motorcycle Race Planned Sunday

The big Five-Star motorcycle racing event, originally scheduled for last month, but postponed because of rain, will be presented Sunday afternoon at Steelcase Speedway.

The American Motorcycle Association has notified the Chautauque Lake Cyclists, co-sponsors of the event, that a very large field of the country's best riders, can be expected.

The AMA states that no competing event for cyclists has been scheduled for this weekend in the entire eastern United States or Canada, thus assuring that the top jockeys of both countries should appear at the fast Steelcase oval.

The Five-Star racing program, highest AMA category short of the National Championships, will be the largest motorcycle race ever staged in this part of the country.

Fans who witnessed last year's thrilling program for the two-wheeled thunderbolts, can expect to see about twice as many of these dare-devils blasting into the turns four abreast, with sparks flying as they carry most of their weight on their steel-soled left boots. Time trials won't be the thunderbolts will start at 1:00 p. m., with racing getting under way at 2:30.

A.P. Sports Writer Picks Prospective College Winners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Most experts agree there will be confusion galore at the start of the 1958 college football season because of the change in value of some conversions, the almost two-platoon substitution rule and the one-arm blocking.

Those experts are correct. There is confusion. Here are the first selections of the season to prove it.

Georgia Tech over Kentucky: Both teams are bouncing back from poor seasons, but Tech will bounce the higher with Fred Bralston ticketed for stardom.

Missouri over Vanderbilt: You can see this one for yourself on your TV screen. Coach Dan Devine brings his multiple offense technical to the Tiger campus and gets off with a victory.

Washington State over Stanford: Bobby Newman, Washington State quarterback, was the nation's leading ground gainer last year and is back for more action. Stanford's entire backfield was graduated.

Penn State over Nebraska: The Pennsylvania Lions are mature at every position while Nebraska still is trying to learn the single wing plays added to the Huskers' split-T formation of the past.

UCLA over Pittsburgh: Lack of expert tackles will hurt Panthers in this intersectional clash.

North Carolina over North Carolina State: Coach Jim Tatum has 22 lettermen back and admits this is the best team he has had since starting coach at North Carolina. State whipped the Tar Heels the past two years and this will be for blood.

Maryland over Wake Forest: The 15th loss in a row for Wake Forest.

TCU over Kansas: The Texas Frogs have added a passing attack to their 1957 running game. They also are big and fast.

Oregon State over Southern California: A Friday night encounter that sends Oregon State's veteran array against Trojan sophomores.

Duke over South Carolina: A squeaker that likely will be decided by one of those new fangled conversions.

Oklahoma State over Denver: The Oklahoma Cowpokes are getting ready to move into the Big Eight circuit.

Texas over Georgia: The defense minded Texans will turn Bobby Lackey loose often enough to halt the Bulldogs.

Slipping over the others in a hurry:

Friday night: Detroit over George Washington, Davidson over Catawba.

Saturday:

East: Boston College over Scranton, Villanova over West Chester State.

South: Clemson over Virginia, Florida State over Furman, Florida over Tulane, Mississippi over Memphis State, Virginia Tech over West Texas State, Virginia Military over Morehead State, West Virginia over Richmond.

Midwest: Bradley over Butler, Cincinnati over Dayton, Iowa State over Drake, Wyoming over Kansas State, Marquette over South Dakota State, Wichita over Bowling Green.

Far West: Arizona State over Hawaii, Utah State over Arizona, Brigham Young over Fresno State, Oregon over Idaho, Utah over Montana.

Southwest: Arkansas over Baylor, Louisiana State over Rice, Texas A&M over Texas Tech.

Casey Describes Team as Normal American Boys

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Casey Stengel says his New York Yankees are just normal, healthy, red-blooded, playful American boys.

They do not fight among themselves, he says, and there have been no fights between players and coaches. The whole squad, says Stengel, is saving its strength for the Milwaukee Braves and the World Series.

The New York Post said Wednesday that Coach Ralph Houk and relief ace Ryno Duren "engaged in a bloody battle" during the Yankees' victory party Sunday night.

"A lot of bunk," Stengel growled. "Just a lot of newspaper bunk."

Houk denied it, too, and Duren was in Wisconsin attending his grandfather's funeral. Other Yankee players said it was just horseplay and some writers covering the club said there was no exchange of punches.

The Post said the fight took place on a train carrying the club from Kansas City, where the Yankees clinched another pennant Sunday, to Detroit. "By agreement the sports writers traveling with the team kept it secret," said the Post. "Today it leaked out."

Everyone seems to agree on one point — that Duren apparently had been drinking and that there was at least a slight disorder involving the pitcher and the coach. Houk was in his seat, chewing on an unlighted cigar. Duren pushed it into Houk's face.

"I never left my seat," said Houk Wednesday when asked about the incident. "I reached up with my hand and brushed him away. My ring caught him around the eye, I guess, but there were no punches and there was no fight."

One of the New York writers said that he, Duren and Houk had breakfast together Monday morning. "They were laughing and talking about their kids," said the writer. "Everything was fine and dandy."

Duren pitched five scoreless innings against Detroit Tuesday, and bore no noticeable signs of battle.

No Two-Dollar Windows For 17th America's Cup.

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEWPORT, R. I. — (NEA) — Two sleek thoroughbreds will go to the post on a wet track off Brenton Reef Sept. 20 in what the blue-stocking sports gentry regard as one of the most historic and colorful racing events of our time.

But before horse players and baseball pool plungers head for the ocean in hopes of greener fields on which to lose the rent money, a word of discouragement is in order.

There are no $2 windows for the 17th running of the America's Cup. In fact, even Harry (Champ) Seagel, one of Broadway's most ardent betters, can't find a way to get a buck down on this fabulous contest between two $300,000 sailing yachts.

No doubt there will be some gentlemanly wagers at the bar of the Ida Lewis Yacht Club here, but mutual players from Belmont would be shut out before they got past the front door.

James Cox Stevens, late of Hoboken, N.J., a man who thought nothing of plunging $10,000 on a horse race, discovered these hard facts way back in 1851 when he went to England with a schooner named, appropriately enough, America, and won what became the America's Cup.

STEVENS HAD A SIZABLE PIECE of the $20,000 schooner, and he cannily planned to recoup this investment many-fold. For this purpose, he approached the British shores with several bags of gold pieces and a proclaimed willingness to bet.

He didn't get a farthing's worth of action. The British, even more canny, kept their hands in their pockets and all Stevens won was the honor of American yachtmanship and a silver-plated mug that a Bowery pawnbroker would spurn.

This silver cup, however, has occupied the attention and money of well-heeled sailors on both sides of the Atlantic ever since. Through the years, they have spent 35 million dollars defending the mug or, on the British side, trying to get it back.

IN 16 CHALLENGES UP TO NOW, the British have lost. You would expect a record like this would have the bookmakers waiting with open arms for longshot players anxious to risk a bundle on this year's British entry. But the bookmakers are looking the other way.

"A boat race?" snorted one of them. "In horse parlance, a boat race is a race that's been fixed."

In this genteel world of yachting, such words may smack of heresy, but they are not unheard of in America's Cup history. Lord Dunraven, who twice battled for the cup in the 1890's, claimed the American defenders had cheated with the ballast, which would be akin to giving the horse the needle. The charge was disproved.

THE LAST AMERICA'S CUP RACE was in 1937, when Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger defeated Endeavor II, T. O. M. Sopwith's British challenger in four of seven races. Sopwith insisted there was dirty pool in the fourth race, but the judges said he didn't holler soon enough. He went home mad.

The rest of the British sailing fraternity were mad, too, and stayed that way until the rules were changed to permit contenders to be whittled down from the 140-foot, million-dollar Ranger size to what are called 12-meter.

A 12-meter boat is a shade under 70 feet long and costs $300,000, and now the British are back with one called Sceptre.

Seven races it will be, each 24 miles long, and, like the World Series, the first to win four cops.

If it comes up mud, which in this case would be strong winds and rough seas, the handicappers say Sceptre has a good chance. But don't bet on it. There's no black to put your money.

Pescadores Residents Are
Accustomed to Explosions
By GENE KRAMER
MAKUNG, Pescadores (AP)—Explosions split the sultry air but fail to disturb the impassive crowd standing beside a dock 86 miles from Communist China.
Chinese are accustomed to firecrackers and the only unusual thing is that these are being fired by American sailors coming ashore for liberty.
Another crackle of firecracker strings sets a group of white-clad sailors jumping and laughing.
"All right—who done it?" growls a shore policeman. "The next guy who lights off a firecracker loses his liberty card."
The sailors stream from the pier into crowded streets lined with dilapidated clay and brick buildings. Loud-speakers blare Chinese music and tunes popular in the States last year.
Small landing boats from the gray U.S. warships outside the harbor pour ashore men in white jumpers and T-shirts—known as "relaxed whites"—before solemn Chinese watchers.
Hours later, the white shirts stream back to the boats with watermelons, pineapples, bananas, mounted lobster trophies and shell ornaments.
The returning sailors are boisterous.
But asked how they like this place, almost to a man they rate it as the 7th Fleet's most monotonous port.
"Except for Bikini, where there is nothing, but nothing," said one seaman.
Makung, with a population of 30,000, is the capital of the small Pescadores Islands, which for defense might be considered the Hawaii of Formosa. It is 40 miles west of Formosa.
The United States is sworn to defend the Pescadores as well as Formosa in its treaty with Nationalist China.
The Pescadores is a staging base for supplying the Nationalist offshore islands. With the recent U.S. Navy participation in Nationalist convoys, the Pescadores are visited by hundreds of U.S. sailors nightly.
A small band of Americans is risking death daily in Formosa Strait, their names and numbers undisclosed.
They are the specialists in unloading techniques who ride Nationalist Chinese supply ships onto the beaches of Quemoy under Red artillery barrages.
Their job is to tell the Chinese how to unload their supplies quickly and then get out of range of the Red guns.

With the Candidates

DEMOCRATIC

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh promised today that if elected governor he would expand Pennsylvania's mental health program.

The Democratic candidate pledged "to build on the foundation started by Gov. Leader to provide an all-purpose mental health program for Pennsylvania."

In a speech prepared for delivery during a tour of Washington County, Lawrence cited the improvements planned for the Western Pennsylvania Training School in Canonsburg as "typical of the long-range mental health and welfare program instituted by Gov. Leader."

The Democratic State "Dollars-for-Democrats" Drive today announced the appointment of Lewis Crippen of Youngsville, Pennsylvania as chairman for Warren County.

The drive opens Friday, September 26, and runs through Monday, September 29.

"Dollars - for - Democrats," along with a companion Republican effort, is being sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation and the Advertising Council of America. It is aimed at getting the average citizen—through dollars as well as ballots—to take a more active part in our American government.

Over the next weekend, volunteer collectors for the "Dollars-for-Democrats" Drive will call on thousands of families in every corner of Pennsylvania. If not at home, each voter will receive an envelope to mail in a political contribution.

REPUBLICAN

HARRISBURG (AP) — Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican candidate for governor, today urged Gov. Leader to order the state police into Pittsburgh to fight crime. McGonigle declared that his Democratic opponent, Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence, has been reluctant "to move against racketeers."

"Therefore, Gov. Leader should send in state police to clean up this mess and he should send them at once," McGonigle asserted.

"I realize," he added, "that local authorities in Pittsburgh are unwilling to admit their incompetence. But the governor should act anyway."

McGonigle said the lives of Pittsburghers have been threatened by gang wars involving a series of bombings that "endangered the lives of decent, law-abiding people."

Rep. Hugh Scott, GOP candidate for the U.S. Senate, called for a Republican victory Nov. 4 to bring about a revitalizing of state government.

Dorothy Roe Says

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Writer "I've never yet found a perfect woman," says Charles LeMaire, who for the last 25 years has designed costumes for the most famous beauties of stage and screen.

"If a girl is a great singer, she has a diaphragm that's hard to fit. If she's a dancer, she's likely to have overdeveloped legs. Glamorous sweater girls usually are top-heavy. Designing clothes for any woman is a problem, for the job of the designer always is to camouflage her bad points and accent her good ones."

LeMaire, a husky, athletic, human type, says he approaches the designing of costumes for each new star in much the way that an engineer figures the stresses and strains of a bridge.

"Take Susan Hayward," says the designer. "She has a real woman's figure—a beautiful figure, but one which requires careful costuming before the camera. I always make her clothes with a small waistline and a skirt with a fitted yoke top, which gives a smooth, slender hipline."

"Then there's Suzy Parker—she's a tall girl and my job is to cut down her apparent height on the screen. So I put her in things like a white lace blouse with a black skirt, or a dress with color contrast at the top."

"To make a short girl look taller, I keep her outfit all one color, from head to foot."

One of LeMaire's clients is the well-endowed Jayne Mansfield, of whom he says: "There's nothing you can do about Jayne. You just have to work around the obstacles."

LeMaire was born in Chicago, raised in Salt Lake City and came to New York in his teens to become the best-known theatrical designer on Broadway. Then he moved to Hollywood. He has been head designer for 20th Century-Fox for the last 15 years.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Four months ago a discouraged Patti Page was ready to quit television. She never talked about it publicly, but her friends knew that she felt the Patti Page show was everybody's show except Patti Page's. Today a refreshed and excited Miss Page is on the threshold of a new television season. Next Wednesday (Sept. 24) her new weekly half-hour musical series makes its debut on ABC-TV.

She declines to discuss her last season's program on CBS-TV except to say that "everybody tried very hard." It can be said, however, that too many cooks were spoiling the show conducted by that brood of a singer Patti Page; her own ideas of how it should be run were largely ignored.

Now, with a new production staff, she says, "This is my idea of a show. I know that it's quite the fashion this television season to say that you're having a show with a no-format format. But it is true of our new show. You'll see when it goes on.

"None of the programs will have a theme," Miss Page says. "It might be called a musical variety show, but it's not a variety show in the sense that I come out with a guest and say, 'Let's sing,' and then we do a duet."

Is she banning rock 'n' roll music, which some viewers found the bane of last season's series? "Nothing is banned on the new show," she says. "But it definitely is not a rock 'n' roll program. And it's not just a musical series. We'll have comedians and other guests who can't sing or play even a harmonica."

As with many other shows, hers faces the problem of obtaining talent and "different" guests. "There's plenty of guest talent," she says. "The problem is less in obtaining talented guests than in obtaining sufficient money to pay them."

A long vacation this summer was a big help, she feels, in getting ready for a long TV season. She and her husband, dance director Charles O'Curran, spent two weeks in Jamaica and then visited her family in her native Claremore, Okla., before driving to the west coast.

Sounds are heard much easier in damp air than in dry air.

Information On Eligibility for Soil Bank Project

Any farmer who has cropland which is regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay is eligible to participate in the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, Chairman N. E. Dodd of the Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

Using Conservation Reserve regulations, the Chairman defined "eligible" and "ineligible" land for the program as follows:

Eligible land includes: (1) Any land from which a crop was harvested or which was in regular crop rotation in 1958, and (2) land from which tame hay was harvested for hay, or silage in either 1957 or 1958. Tame hay is defined as "a stand of perennial grasses or legumes normally established for hay by land preparation and seeding."

Non-eligible land includes: (1) That planted to small fruits, vineyards, nursery stock, orchard or nut trees, and land between rows of these crops; (2) any land owned by the Federal Government or a corporation wholly owned by the Federal Government; and (3) land in noncrop open pasture, range, woods, or in the farmstead.

In Warren County, Chairman Dodd said, the smallest amount of land that can be put in the Conservation Reserve is 5 acres. If the entire acreage to be put in the program is to be planted to forest trees, however, be planted. Chasing, the art of ornamentation, is a term used in the goldsmith's work, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
